'Cancer Drug' Ban Appealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sit-in group of Krebiozen drug users who "do not believe our government will abandon us and let us die" sent a personal plea today to President Johnson.

The 17 keeping a vigil in the outer office of Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, want the President to lift the federal ban on interstate shipment of the controversial drug which the government has ruled is worthless against cancer.

Before dawn broke over the capital, members of the Citizens Committee for Cancer Survivors on Krebiozen drew up a telegram to Johnson.

It said: "We appeal to you to lift (the) ban for those patients now using Krebiozen by executive authority exercisable in disaster affecting American lives.

"Your intervention would be received by our people and the world as a magnificent act of humanitarianism."

Most of the 17 keeping the vigil have cancer, a few do not. Through the long night, some of the sicker patients in the group slept on mattresses just outside Celebrezze's office.

Name Shortened

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — The United Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar has a new and shorter name. President Julius Nyerere announced after a Cabinet meeting Thursday his country is now officially "the United Republic of Tanzania" — Tanzania for short.

Former Mayor New Premier Of South Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Tran Van Huong, former mayor of Saigon, was named today to succeed Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh as premier despite ill health which hampered his work as mayor.

Huong, 60, said he planned to name Dr. Nguyen Luu Vien, Khanh's uncle, as deputy premier and defense minister. His other Cabinet choices were not certain.

Huong's appointment by the new chief of state, Phan Khanh Suu, must be confirmed by the 16-member high national council responsible for setting up a new government.

Because of Khanh's relationship to Vien, there could be strong opposition to Vien's being named defense minister. In that post he will have a seat on the powerful four-man national security council, and Khanh is expected to fill one of the other seats as chief of the armed forces.

Vien was interior minister in Khanh's last Cabinet. "I'm not sure whether I should be congratulated or offered condolences," Huong said. "But this is a critical period in Vietnamese history, and I have accepted this sacrifice for my nation as a matter of conscience."

A high school teacher, Huong was mayor of Saigon in 1954-55 under the late President Ngo Dinh Diem. He attracted attention by riding to work on a bicycle instead of using a government limousine.

Steel Price Rise Talk Dies Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Talk of a steel price rise died down today, apparently spiked by disappearing word from President Johnson.

But the question remained: Was it a pre-election lull on the part of steel leaders who have warmly argued for a boost recently, or has the President—plus glowing profit reports—given them enduring pause?

The Johnson point that steel profits, anemic two years ago, now are swelling rapidly was underscored Thursday when Bethlehem Steel Corp., the No. 2 producer, reported that July-September earnings had jumped 105 per cent from a year earlier, rising to $36.3 million or 76 cents a common share.

For the first nine months of this year profits climbed 58 per cent to $104,928,169, a seven-year high for such a period and more than the company earned in all of 1963.

Even so, Edmund F. Martin, Bethlehem chairman, said the nine-month margin—a 6.3 per cent return on sales and 7.8 per cent on invested capital—wasn't good enough.

"If we were satisfied, I would hope somebody would fire me," Martin told newsmen.

This was roughly what several other steel company executives have been saying.

Martin refused to say anything about prices, even why he wouldn't discuss them. Three months ago he indicated support for higher prices.

A tally of 1964 earnings of the 16 largest steel companies at the three-quarter mark showed profit of $576.5 million, up from $457.1 million in the like period of 1963 for a gain of 26 per cent.

Johnson again defended the administration's price-wage guideposts, invoked in steel price-wage maneuvering 2½ years ago, as "increasingly important" in the economy's advanced stage of expansion.

He said that the guideposts, geared to a productivity concept, provide a useful criterion for responsible business and labor leaders and are not intended to straitjacket prices or wages.

Sweden Cracked Nazi Code, Says Former Envoy

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Eric Boheman, former Swedish ambassador to Washington, says the Swedish government cracked the Nazi code in World War II and relayed word to London that Germany would attack the Soviet Union.

Boheman said he met Sir Stafford Cripps, then British ambassador to Moscow, in Stockholm early in June, 1941. Cripps was going home to report that the Germans apparently would not attack the Soviet Union. But Boheman said he told Cripps an attack would be made between June 20 and 25. The invasion began at dawn June 22.

Boheman said two Swedish mathematicians reconstructed the German coding machine and the Swedes decoded messages until Germany altered its code system in 1942.

Johnson Uses New Slogan In Midwest Tour

DETROIT (AP) — President Johnson, making a final campaign tour of the Midwest, came up with a new slogan today: "The vote you cast will be your own and the world you save will be your own."

Johnson unveiled this phrase in a speech prepared for an airport rally in Detroit. It was his latest move in a week-long effort to picture himself as the candidate best equipped to preserve peace.

Rival Challenged
The President, even while emphasizing questions of peace and war in every speech, still seeks opportunities to contrast his views with those of Republican rival Barry Goldwater.

He did this anew Thursday night in Philadelphia, taking issue with Goldwater on the role of clergymen in public affairs.

Addressing a Democratic dinner, Johnson added to his text a challenge to a Goldwater statement questioning the propriety of political endorsements by members of the clergy.

The President said: "I hope the day will never come when any man, for any cause, will try to keep religion out of our national decisions on who shall lead us or the direction we shall go."

A day earlier, in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Goldwater inserted into one of his campaign speeches a passage in which he questioned whether clergymen could be giving proper attention to problems of morality and, at the same time, be providing Johnson with endorsements.

No Name Mentioned
The President, who never mentioned Goldwater in his remarks, said: "I do not condemn our churches or our clergymen for being concerned that America meet her moral responsibilities for peace, for preserving human freedom and human life, and for doing what a rich nation can and should do to wipe poverty from our land. I not only don't condemn them, I thank God for their courage."

Johnson, in his Detroit text, hit his peace theme again saying: "We must be strong — but never reckless. We must be firm — but never foolish. One reckless impulsive move of a single finger could incinerate our civilization."

"That is what it means to be President of the United States today. That is what is at stake in this election."

Then, cribbing liberally from a familiar highway slogan, he concluded: "Go to the polls Tuesday and vote, alone with your conscience. The vote you cast will be your own and the world you save will be your own."

The GOP contender rolled by train from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh, hammering away at Johnson before crowds that ranged from about 2,000 to 5,000.

He capped a day of rain-splattered whistlestop speeches at a roaring rally that packed Pittsburgh's civic arena with more than 13,000 Thursday night.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, introducing the man he had challenged for the presidential nomination, said there were 25,000 people in the hall and standing outside. Police estimated 17,000.

Clashes continued. As many as 48 persons may have been killed in the past week.

Army troops were in Oruro, a tin mining center 143 miles south of the capital, and the rebels there reported heavy fighting.

New violence broke out in La Paz and Cochabamba, a city 310 miles southeast of La Paz.

Paz Estenssoro ordered military units into Oruro after miners and students there proclaimed a rebellion against his regime.

Oruro radio stations held by the miners said a force of miners and students battled soldiers 18 miles from Oruro on a road leading to the big Catavi tin mine.

New Civilian Regime Takes Over In Sudan

CAIRO (AP) — Sudan got a new civilian government today, but President Ibrahim Abboud remained chief of state and his power appeared only slightly diminished.

A communique broadcast by Omdurman Radio said Abboud would exercise "all the constitutional powers" but with the "approval of the Cabinet."

It said he also was entrusted with "handling affairs related to the armed forces." Abboud commanded the army before leading the coup six years ago that installed a military government in the big country south of Egypt.

Elkhatem Khalifa was named premier and head of a 15-man Cabinet. In a broadcast he announced the abolition of martial law and the post of military governor.

U.S. Prestige Sinking, Says Sen. Goldwater

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, asserting that President Johnson is "trying to reduce American prestige to a popularity poll," said today the Democrats are letting the Free World fall apart while U.S. prestige sinks.

The Republican presidential candidate charged that Johnson's foreign policy has lost Turkey as a U.S. ally. He said France is seeking new trade ties with the Soviet Union while Great Britain's new Labor government ponders U.S. nuclear deterrent policies.

And the Communist world, said Goldwater, is "regrouping under tough new leaders."

Turning his campaign westward, Goldwater said Johnson "has proven to be a President isolated from foreign policy behind a wall of political ambition and behind a wall of political henchmen who care for nothing in the world but their own gains and power."

Goldwater made his accusations at Cheyenne, Wyo., kicking off a campaign day that takes him to Tucson, Ariz., Las Vegas, Nev., and Los Angeles.

"In just the past few days," he said, "while Lyndon Johnson has been trying to reduce American prestige to a popularity poll, the Free World has been coming apart at the seams and American prestige has been sinking slowly out of sight."

Goldwater headed west after a final bid for Pennsylvania's 29 electoral votes. With three campaign journeys, he has made that state his one major target in the Northeast.

West Berliners Can Cross Line Until Nov. 12

BERLIN (AP) — Thousands of happy West Berliners streamed into the Soviet sector today to visit relatives after the Communists opened the Berlin wall for the second time in three years.

A few hours after Red guards raised the candy-striped steel barriers and unlocked the steel gates, the official East German news agency reported that 6,000 West Berliners had crossed over.

This was far more than expected. On the first day of last year's visiting period, the first the Reds had allowed since they built their wall in August 1961, only about 4,000 crossed all day.

The wall will remain open to persons with the necessary passes until Nov. 12 — over the All Saints' holiday. It is the first of four visiting periods within the next 12 months.

At the Oberbaumbrücke checkpoint, the first crossings began waiting in line shortly after 5 a.m. It was a damp morning with temperatures just a few degrees above freezing.

Most of those crossing over were older people since today is a working day. Only persons working for government offices were given the day off.

The visitors carried big shopping bags filled mostly with such items as butter, coffee, cocoa and fresh fruit. They are scarce or very expensive in the East.

Passes through the wall were good for only one day, until midnight.

No Great Rush
The rush through the iron curtain was not as great today as it was on the first day of the Christmas-New Year visiting period.

About 800,000 West Berliners with relatives in East Berlin were eligible to apply for wall passes under an agreement signed last month between West Berlin and East Germany.

This was the second such agreement concluded since the Reds built the wall in August, 1961, to prevent the escape of East Germans. The first agreement ran for 18 days over Christmas and New Year. Immediately after it expired, new talks began and lasted for 10 months.

Malaysia Coast Raid Collapses

SUNGEI RAMBAI, Malaysia (AP) — Indonesia's latest invasion of the Malaysian mainland collapsed today when 25 guerrillas meekly surrendered less than 36 hours after they landed.

A strong Commonwealth task force hunted for a half dozen other guerrillas still believed at large from a force of 56 men who landed by boat Thursday near this village on Malaysia's southwest shore.

The guerrillas emerged from the swampy jungles with no resistance after being pinned down by British, Australian and New Zealand troops.

Malaysian police rounded up 25 other invaders Thursday.

It was Indonesia's third raid of the mainland since August.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Malaysia planned to protest to the United Nations. Australia, whose troops went into action against the Indonesians for the first time, said it would report the action to the international organization.

Husband Returns On Stiff Pledge

MARTINEZ, Calif. (AP) — George Morse, 23, reconciled with his wife, Marguerite, in Superior Court by promising in writing Thursday to:

Transfer all community property to her; work a minimum of eight hours a day, taking advantage of fringe benefits; deliver his entire paycheck to her the day he receives it; leave management of financial affairs to her; never leave her alone and unattended.

Healing Of Rift In Communist Ranks Unlikely

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
A.P. Special Correspondent

A world Communist meeting—with Red China attending—is a probability in the near future. But any attempt to heal the split in the global revolutionary movement seems headed for failure.

The new Soviet regime in all likelihood will be unwilling and unable to pay Peking's high price for peace.

Nikita Khrushchev's scalp was only the first installment the Chinese Communists demand for muzzling communism's internal warfare.

Khrushchev's successors — party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin — seem anxious to mute the noisy criticism from Red China and its allies. But if they are going to get anywhere, they must eventually show a tougher policy toward the United States and even risk new tensions.

It is doubtful the new regime wants to alarm the Soviet people with a prospect of a turn backward toward Stalinism. It does not want to alarm the European Communist satellites, which have had a faint taste of independence. It does not want to alarm West European Communists, whose only prospects for gains lie in hailing the opposition.

Khrushchev's successors claim to support his policies of peaceful coexistence and higher living standards at home. At the same time they claim to stand for restoring world Communist unity.

Brezhnev and Kosygin cannot have all these things. The best they can hope for is a lull in the wordy battle with Peking. A lull is in effect now. Since Khrushchev's fall the Soviet press and the Red Chinese have been silent about differences with Moscow. But the aloof Chinese are watching and waiting developments.

The Chinese Communists seem interested now in a meeting with Moscow. They had rejected Khrushchev's call for a preparatory meeting Dec. 15 intended to lead to a world conference of 90 parties in mid-1965, but things have changed.

A conference, now likely, would be welcomed by Peking, anxious to probe Soviet intentions and seek tokens from Moscow that it has mended its ways.

U.S. 'Hot Line' To Moscow Idle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington-Moscow "hot line" has stood idle while President Johnson exchanged messages with the new leaders of the Soviet Union.

This may come as a surprise to many people who, judging by inquiries about the hot line operations, apparently have the impression that it is a regular channel of communications between the White House and the Kremlin.

U.S. officials said today, however, that in fact the line has never been used for substantial exchanges of views between the American and Soviet governments. The reason is that when it was opened Aug. 31, 1963, both governments had already reached agreement that it would be employed only in times of crisis.

The theory behind creation of the special communications channel is that in a moment of extreme danger the ability of the President of the United States and the leaders of the Soviet Union to send messages to each other directly and in secret might help to avoid actions which would plunge the world into nuclear war.

The agreement to establish a line was reached following the Cuban missile crisis of October 1962. During the exchanges between the late President John F. Kennedy and former Premier Khrushchev some messages were given out publicly as soon as they were dispatched to one capital or the other because news wires could transmit them so much more quickly than they could be handled through ordinary diplomatic channels.

The hot line, which is tested every day, is actually two telegraph circuits which can readily handle messages in both directions. There is also a duplex radio circuit which would be used as a fallback channel in case the land line between the Pentagon and Moscow should break down at a critical moment.

Theoretically if the hot line had to be used in the near future, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin would be the man at the other end since he is the head of the Soviet government.

New Canadian Flag Designed

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government has a new proposal for a flag design but apparently it will not end the drawn-out debate on the issue.

A 15-member committee recommended to the House of Commons Thursday that the new design be a single red maple leaf on a white ground with a red bar at each side. It would replace the red ensign with the British Union Jack in the upper left-hand corner.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's Liberal government is seeking a flag devoid of the British symbol to help promote allegiance from separatist sympathizers in French-speaking Quebec Province.

The all-party flag committee was formed after a 22-day debate during which the Liberal government's proposal for a three-leaf emblem became deadlocked in Commons.

Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker said Thursday night that the new proposal was not acceptable to the Conservatives because it lacked the support of at least 13 of the committee's 15 members.

Rest Home Fire Takes 7 Lives

COLUSA, Calif. (AP) — Seven persons were killed today when the Oak Manor Rest Home for the aged burned to the ground, said Colusa County Coroner Howard Moore.

The fire started at 12:30 a.m. Moore said the home housed 14 patients. The bodies were recovered, he said.

Beauty Of 1957 In Dope Case And Suicide Attempt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leona Gage — "Miss USA for a Day" in 1957 — was in critical condition in a hospital prison ward today, booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana after trying to commit suicide, police said.

Miss Gage, 26, was found unconscious Thursday, sprawled across a bed and frothing at the mouth, in a Sunset Boulevard motel, police said.

A note nearby read: "Strange as I know this must sound, I feel in my heart that to make my exit at this point in my life was the wisest thing to do. I would like to believe that there are a few who will understand. Good luck to everyone. God bless you all."

Miss Gage won fame in 1957's international beauty pageant when she was named Miss USA. She reigned for only one day before it was learned that she was married.

Knox, Clevenger Answer League's Four Questions

The League of Women Voters of Escanaba today released for publication answers it has received to four questions the League posed to Rep. Victor Knox (R) and Ray Clevenger (D), candidates for U.S. Congress in the 11th District.

Rep. Knox has been a member of Congress for the past 12 years and is a senior member of the Committee on Ways and Means. He is a former township treasurer and supervisor; served 16 years as a member of the Michigan House of Representatives, and six years as speaker of the House. His home address is Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Raymond F. Clevenger is also a resident of the Sault, where he is a practicing attorney. He is 38 years old, has five children. He received his B.A. degree from Roosevelt University, Chicago; his degree in law from the University of Michigan. He attended the London School of Economics and Political Science of the University of London, England. He has been practicing law at the Sault since 1963.

The four questions directed to the candidates and their answers:

1 - What, in your opinion, should be the U.S. policy on economic aid to the developing nations in Asia, Africa, and Latin America? Why?

Knox:
It should be made absolutely certain that economic aid to under developed countries be directed to the people in need and not to the heads of government or the controlling political party. The problems of health and living conditions in these countries should receive serious consideration.

Clevenger:
We must continue to aid the economic development of these nations. A world with an uneven economic development can only have at best an uneven and uneasy peace. Any aid given, however, must be prudent and effective to accomplish predetermined goals of improving the development of the countries given aid.

2 - Do you think there is need for further Congressional action on Civil Rights? Please explain.

Knox:
Until such time as the courts have an opportunity to act on the provisions of the Civil Rights Act which Congress has passed and determine the constitutionality of it, further Congressional action should not be necessary. If some sections are found to be unconstitutional it may then be necessary to amend the Act in order to make it workable.

Clevenger:
The primary problem facing our nation in the area of Civil Rights at present is implementing the Act just passed. There are grave problems facing us that may not be resolved by the present Act; however, until we get further along with implementing the new Act, it is my opinion that further legislative action at this time would not profit us as a nation.

3 - To what domestic economic problems should the federal government give priorities?

Knox:
We have three direct programs for training the unskilled and school dropouts. Everything should be done to assist these individuals after they have been trained to place them in positions that are in line with their training and abilities even though they may have to migrate to other areas for employment. These people should not be kept as wards of the government, but should become self-sufficient.

Clevenger:
The fundamental problem and the one deserving the highest federal government priority is to assist in getting action to get the economy of Upper Michigan moving. We must have jobs for our unemployed, and find some way to enable our children to stay in this area after they have been educated.

4 - What national or international problem interests you most? Please explain.

Knox:
We should strive to have peace throughout the world. America must keep itself strong in the eyes of other nations, and it is necessary for us to be firm in our obligations as a free world. We should not permit our prestige to deteriorate so that others will not have confidence in us as a strong country.

Clevenger:
To me the greatest problem is how to get effective representation and action to help solve the problems of Upper Michigan. Our people have great talent, education, and training, yet we haven't got ourselves organized as well as we might in order to solve these problems.

DEDICATION of the John F. Kennedy School for Retarded Children received support from everyone, including Gov. DUC Assures 'Tomorrow' For Retarded Child

At the end of the day, when classes are being dismissed at the John F. Kennedy School for Retarded Children, the teachers bid each child good bye with the words, "See you tomorrow."

"What a beautiful thought for these children who have known only a today," comments A. J. Valind, chairman of the Delta County Chapter, Michigan Association for Retarded Children.

The School for Retarded Children is one of the eight member agencies of Delta United Charities, whose goal of $50,000 will help finance the operations in the coming year of the School for Retarded plications have been received for entry in their school, seven in the past week to be exact, and others will apply in the near future," it was reported.

"In order to accommodate them we must hire another teacher before we can accept them, as State Laws for class B training permit 15 pupils per teacher and aide, we sincerely desire to do this at the earliest possible moment because this is what we are fighting for."

Support Asked
"We have a beautiful new school that will accommodate 30 of these children, and it is our fond hope to reach this total within a few years. We feel that a public that has been so generous in helping us to build this school surely wants us to admit all children that are eligible as soon as possible."

"As in the past seven years, we have proven that we can operate a school with a minimum of finances even to requiring the parents of these children to take care of all upkeep and janitor services."

"We receive no aid from city, state or federal sources, but must rely completely on the generosity of the public for the operation of this school, so only you can tell us if we shall reach 15 or 30 children."

"We are a member of the Delta United Charities and will secure about one-half of our needs if they attain their goal, for the other half we sincerely hope that a generous public will continue to aid us with their charity."

"We realize that each member of United Charities is a worthwhile group and we ask that you support these charities to the fullest possible extent so that they, as well as ourselves, may have another tomorrow."

State Wide To Mark 2 Decades

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Harris of Rapid River will lead a delegation from the Escanaba office of State Wide Real Estate, Inc., to Clare for a celebration of the firm's 20th year as a statewide organization at the Clare Country Club Saturday. A brokers meeting at 4 p.m. will be followed by a dinner, with entertainment and reminiscence, at 6:30 p.m.

Attending the celebration from the Escanaba office will be Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Palmgren, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pertile, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Myers, all of Escanaba, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Harris of Kipling.

Hugh A. Harris, founder and president of the organization, started his career as a salesman at Flint for Parker Realty and after two years became a co-broker with the Acme Co. Harris, whose father was Soo Line depot agent in Rapid River for 40 years, came to the Upper Peninsula in that period for a visit and it was then that the State Wide organization was conceived.

He was asked by Mrs. Sam Minor, who owned a cabin set-up in Rapid River, to sell her property, which he did. It is now known as Peck Cabins. Other people sought his aid and he decided to start his own company with offices in the key cities of the state.

He opened his first office at 1708 Fenton Rd., Flint and called it "State Wide Real Estate Service." Ten of his original brokers still are with him. He first employed 25 salesmen and as they finished two years, as required at that time, they got their broker licenses and opened other State Wide offices. An office in Detroit for selling listed properties was started successfully.

The organization has developed one of the largest multiple listing brokerages in the country, says Harris, who now has two sons in the business with him, Herbert A. and Hugh D. His daughter, Ann J. Belanger, who started in the business with him, was killed three years ago and his other daughter, Mrs. George Mihalie, has also been associated with the firm.

Offices of the firm now are all owned by individual brokers.

Delta United Charities' goal is the same as a year ago and the campaign for funds is now under way. The success of the fund drive will mean much to the welfare of the retarded children of the area, Valind said.

Could Double Class
"Tomorrow these children will rise early, be dressed and sent off to school with the same loving care that is accorded their brothers and sisters, instead of being forced to stay at home to amuse themselves in any way they can until the other children return home again," Valind pointed out.

"Now they can sit at the same table and do their homework with the others, they can talk about what happened at their school today and what they are going to learn tomorrow. They have a new interest in life, they are more vital, they are living today because tomorrow will come again for them."

"Fourteen of these children now have their tomorrow five days each week and their school follows the same holidays as other schools so that they may live the same life as the others. But many other ap-

Erlandsen Seeks Ninth Term As U.P. Legislator

Einar Erlandsen, of Escanaba is seeking his 9th two-year term in the Michigan Legislature in the Nov. 3 election.

He has represented the Delta County District until this year's reapportionment. Now he is campaigning for election in the 107th district which comprises all of Delta County (except Cornell, Baldwin and Maple Ridge townships in the northwest), all of Schoolcraft except Seney Township, all of Luce County and the top half of Chippewa County including the City of Sault Ste. Marie and Sugar Island in the St. Mary's River.

"We had approximately 34,000 population in the old Delta District," said Erlandsen "and we're running 71,275 population in the new district. It makes a terrific problem of campaigning because of the late primary (moved from August to September). When they shorten up the period a month and give you an enlarged district, they certainly complicate matters until you can get things organized.

"I've been giving away pencils in my campaigning and in the Sault I ran into many people who looked at the pencil and said 'Oh, Democratic! That's what I'm going to vote!' I told my wife that I must be clairvoyant in being able to pick out the Democrats; either that or there are more of them in the Sault than advertised.

Pencil Campaign
"I ran into a woman who turned down a pencil in the Sault with a 'No thank you' and I saw her the next day in Newberry and she took one. When I asked her why she turned me down in the Sault she said she was under the gun to get some stuff in the mail and didn't have time to talk to anybody.

"A young man in the Sault looked at my pencil and said 'State representative—I've got a cousin who's a state representative.' I learned his cousin was Vic Knox, the congressman, and he said he was going to vote against him because Vic had voted against a pay increase for postal workers and his father worked in the post-office."

Erlandsen has probably served Delta County as long as any other legislator. The late Peter Legg served for 14 years. Er-landsen's seniority in the Legislature brought him membership in the education committee, which he left after 12 years to become a member of the important Ways and Means Committee which is now his sole committee obligation because it is so demanding.

Tax Reform Pioneer
Erlandsen has been cited by the Michigan Association of School Boards for his legislative contributions to Michigan public schooling. He was one of the first legislators active in the effort to create a friendlier tax climate for iron mining in the Upper Peninsula, urging such action before the legislators on the iron ranges gave it their support.

He has worked for a fair pricing bill for the dairy industry to help Upper Peninsula dairy farmers and milk plants for the past 5 years. The legislation has never succeeded, failing once by Governor Swainson's veto. It has been unable to overcome big city lobbying.

For the past three years Erlandsen has introduced a manpower training bill, enacted each year, making the state eligible for participation in the federal program to retrain workers who have lost their jobs and need new skills for employment.

He introduced a bill for purchase by the state of the State Office Building but it was accomplished through the capital outlay appropriation and Erlandsen as a Wayne and Means committee member pushed it.

Opposes Ballot
Erlandsen has stressed in his campaigning the Massachusetts ballot adopted by the last Legislature and strongly opposed by him.

"The ballot is destructive to party organization and it doesn't make better voters out of people", he maintains. "Changing the ballot won't change people's habits. The Massachusetts Ballot removes the party vignette from the ballot or the party handles from the voting machines.

"To maintain our form of government—which is the best in the world—we have to maintain the two-party system. There are three ways you can vote a ballot and with the Massachusetts ballot you are losing two of them. You are losing the right to vote a straight party ticket and losing the right to vote the straight party ticket and voting exceptions on the other ticket. On the Massachusetts ballot the voter must look for party affiliation of each candidate. For older voters this can be a problem because party resignation is in smaller type and harder to find.

Bolts Party Line
"I haven't always voted the (Democratic) party ticket in the Legislature. We have strong party discipline in the Michigan Legislature and I have seen the first example of purging in this year's election by the Republicans.

"When party conventions meet, the policy committee meets in secret and legislators are often not invited to sit in on the deliberations. And yet they are expected to carry out the policies adopted. This is why we sometimes have to bolt party policies."

Einar Erlandsen was born in Escanaba Apr. 27, 1908, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Erlandsen. His father is still alive. He was a paper mill worker in his active years and his son was a paper maker from 1926 until 1956. He left that work because of a heart attack and went into the vending business 5 years ago. He operates Superior Vending Service of Escanaba, machine vending candy, cigarettes, pop and coffee.

Mrs. Erlandsen is the former Rose McMahon of Ford River. They have a son, Leon, who is a third generation Erlandsen paper maker at the Escanaba Division mill of Mead Corp. He is wed to the former Ann Donahue of Keokuk, Ia., and they have two children.

Final Game At Stephenson

STEPHENSON—The final football game for the 1964 season will be held at Sawbridge Field this evening. Game time is set for 8. The coaching staff has designated this game as Parents Night and all parents of varsity football players will be honored at pre-game activities starting at about 7:45. Half time festivities will include a performance by the majorettes and musical selections by the Stephenson High School Band under the direction of James Empey.

At MSU
Michigan State University reports that six Mid-County area young people, graduates of Stephenson High School, are enrolled as freshmen. They are Roger Sager, Engineering, Milo Olson, Fish and Wildlife Management, Jane Granskog, Biological Science, Patricia Stodola, Liberal Arts, Curtis Donaldson, Agriculture Engineering and Norman Buckmaster, Electrical Engineering.

Romney Speaks On Split Ticket

Gov. George Romney set the record straight today in comment on campaign talk attributed to him about Barry Goldwater, the GOP Presidential nominee.

"At no time," said Romney "did I indicate that a substantial defeat for Senator Goldwater would strengthen the Republican party. I made no such statement.

"As I indicated in Boston yesterday, I think regardless of what the outcome of the national election is, that there will be a strengthening of the Republican Party because I think people in the Republican party are greatly involved in this election and concerned, and I think that there will naturally follow a degree of interest that is needed to strengthen the party."

Romney said that neither his campaign organization nor Romney Volunteers were connected in any way with a reported effort to show people how to split their vote between President Johnson and Romney.

"As a matter of fact," said Romney "I've made it clear that I am not going to vote for President Johnson, I have not indicated what I would do with my own ballot.

Kimmich Will Address Meet

Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, Lansing, director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health since last July 1, will address the semi-annual luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic, Inc., in Marquette on Nov. 17.

The meeting is open to the public. Reservations may be made with the U. P. Child Guidance Clinic, 418 W. Magnetic St., Marquette (telephone CA 5-1367).

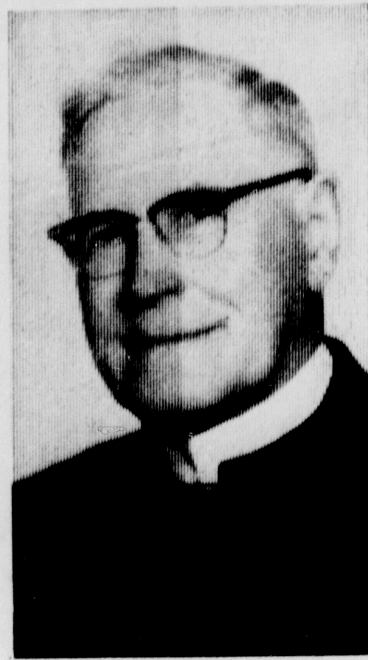

The luncheon will be held in Room 2, Northern Michigan University Center at 12:30 p. m.

Dr. Kimmich will speak on "Program Developments in the Michigan Department of Mental Health." There will be an opportunity for questions.

"Particularly because of the activity in a number of counties in the Upper Peninsula pointing toward operation under Act 54 (Community Services Act), we think that this is a very timely meeting for all people actively identified with, or interested in, mental health in the Upper Peninsula," said Dr. Richard F. O'Dell, Marquette, president of the clinic board.

Invitations have been extended to the clinic's board and executive committee members, members of the clinic's branch committees, Upper Peninsula Mental Health Planning Committee, Upper Peninsula Adult Mental Health Clinic, boards of supervisors, boards of education, judges of probate, school superintendents and school principals.

Born Nov. 2, 1920 in Indianapolis, Dr. Kimmich has been instructor in psychiatry at Yale University, 1948-51; lecturer, School of Social Work, University of Hawaii, 1952-58; assistant clinic professor in psychiatry, University of California, San Francisco, 1960 to 1964.

Bethany Church To Mark 85th Year On Sunday

Sunday, Nov. 1, will climax the 85 year observance of Bethany Lutheran Church with the Rev. Dr. Albert Loreen, Rockford, Ill., the speaker at the 8 and 10:45 a.m. services. The service of worship will center on All Saint's Day when honor will be paid the departed members of Bethany.

Dr. Loreen served Bethany both as a visiting and interim pastor. He has had a life of many activities serving in high positions in the former Augustana Lutheran Church as well as a popular Bible teacher in youth camps.

Next year he will have served in the ministerium of the Lutheran Church in America for 50 years. While now retired, Dr. Loreen continues to serve as a supply pastor. The public is invited to hear the churchman and leader Sunday.

Local Youths Plead Guilty

Two Escanaba youths, John H. Bergerson, 17, and Daniel M. Duncan, 16, each pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering in the night time and unarmed robbery when arraigned separately before Judge Bernard H. Davidson in Delta County Circuit Court today.

Davidson remanded both to custody of the sheriff, pending sentencing which was set for Nov. 6 at 1:30 p. m.

Breaking and entering in the night time carries a maximum prison term of 10 years, while unarmed robbery has a maximum term of 15 years. It was a first offense for each youth.

Charges were brought by Prosecuting Attorney N. P. Chapekis after Bergerson, 217 N. 10th St., waived examination in Justice A. J. Mortier's court in Gladstone last Tuesday and an order from Probate Court waiving jurisdiction in Duncan's case was obtained.

The youths were picked up near Rogers City, Mich., last Monday by state police after taking a 1965-model car from Ford Motor Co. in Escanaba.

The youths also assaulted Ernest Kenonen, 227 N. 11th St., in a robbery of the Spur Gas Station, 1507 Washington Ave. About $60 was taken from Kenonen, who was tied, gagged and pinned under the station's hoist, but was not seriously injured.

Judge Davidson also granted a restricted driver's license to Fred J. King, 1111 6th Ave. S., for purposes of getting to work, shopping, etc. King's license had been suspended after conviction on a drunk driving charge.

DEMOCRATIC

We need new, vigorous, progressive leadership in the north country. Here are five good reasons why . . .

This is the voting record of Clevenger's Republican opponent:

1. WAR ON POVERTY BILL, to provide new Federal projects for such pockets of poverty as the big, new 22-county 11th Congressional District. KNOX VOTED NO on August 8, 1964
2. HEALTH CARE FOR THE AGED. The King-Anderson Bill to provide hospitalization and nursing-home care for our Senior Citizens through Social Security without their suffering the indignity of signing a pauper's oath. KNOX OPPOSED and helped kill this bill in the Ways and Means Committee.
3. AREA REDEVELOPMENT ACT, designed to help get the economy moving in such economically depressed areas as the 11th District. KNOX VOTED NO on May 4, 1960
4. AID TO EDUCATION ACT, authorizing $1.5 billion in grants and loans to public and private colleges for classrooms and libraries, $250 million in grants to public junior colleges, and $600 million for 212,500 four-year college scholarships. KNOX VOTED NO and helped kill this bill on Feb. 6, 1962.
5. WATER POLLUTION CONTROL ACT AMENDMENT, to increase the annual ceiling for matching grants to communities to construct sewage treatment plants. KNOX VOTED NO on September 9, 1959.

The Massachusetts Ballot takes away your right to vote a straight party ticket with a single lever or a single X. It forces you to vote separately for each candidate.

Your present Michigan Free-Choice Ballot gives you a choice of voting individually for candidates—or voting a straight party ticket simply by pulling one lever or marking one X.

The Massachusetts Ballot can do nothing but confuse voters. That's why it's opposed by top political scientists and elections officials.

School Policy

The Press received a letter saying "I was appalled by the conduct of the audience at the board of education 'town meeting' as broadcast. These are the parents and teachers who want a good education and high ideals for their children. These are the people who believe in the American ideal of freedom of speech. I am speaking of the deplorable conduct towards the head of the Taxpayers Association when he attempted to state his side of the question. I am happy that this childish minority is not truly representative of Escanaba's people."

A board of education meeting earlier was the scene of the booing of a clergyman appearing to express a view on the school district's bus policy. He was subjected to rude demands of "Sit down" and "Shut up."

Such incidents are deplorable anywhere and especially so in hearings considering the community's education. One of the products of education is courtesy, an evidence of the enlightened mind, of the fair person.

The Escanaba Area Board of Education seems to be regarded publicly as having a big problem, born of its inability to obtain public approval for taxes which it regards as necessary for the financing of an adequate school program and school housing. Any public regard for the problem as that of the board is significant.

It is not the board's problem. It is the people's problem. The board members are elected by the people to run their public education system.

They are more informed about the needs of the schools than any other group. They present the money needs to the public in the fringe area where normal financing (state and federal aids and the schools' share of the general property tax) does not cover them. They ask "extra voted millage" to cover these costs. The public can veto the extra spending by voting "No" on extra millage. (It OK'd a 3.8 mill tax several years ago, but rejected a 4 mill tax this year.)

The Taxpayers Association suggested to the Board of Education in public meeting that it compromise its request for millage. Obviously this thought had occurred to the Board before it occurred to the Taxpayers Association, but it rejected it as against the best interests of Escanaba because it would result in an inferior school program.

Taxpayers associations are special pleaders. They may represent the public interest or they may not. Any community which finds itself supporting the policies of a self-created taxpayers association more than those of the board of education which it has elected to guard its interests has trouble.

The Board of Education should not be charged with failure to understand the degree of the community's willingness to pay for modern schooling. This may be a desirable skill in educational politics, but the basic job of the board is to determine how much the community should spend for education and to endeavor to get it to spend it.

This process cannot sensibly exceed the community's ability to pay, but it is inconceivable that there could be any sizeable community today in which the cost of adequate public schooling might not come as a hardship to some persons.

So the board must compromise between what's desirable and what's possible, but the process should always accend good schooling rather than minimum costs.

Brighter View

Any observation of the world from a height of 75 years is bound to be interesting. When it is made by a man who is also one of the most distinguished of living historians, and when what he sees behind and ahead for mankind from his vantage point of knowledge gives him reason for hope, then it is especially interesting to a public that sometimes feels it is merely counting the ticks of a nuclear time bomb.

Paradoxically, British historian Arnold B. Toynbee finds great reason for optimism simply because the atom bomb exists. It is obviously a great threat to civilization, he said in a recent interview in the French magazine "Realities."

"But it is so obvious a threat," he added, "that it seems unlikely that anyone will dare use it. In fact, the unprecedented challenge presented to mankind by the existence of nuclear weapons will probably force us to leave the beaten paths of history."

According to Toynbee, were it not for the atom bomb, the Third World War would probably already have occurred. The victor, whether the United States or Russia, like ancient Rome after the defeat of Carthage, would have established a universal empire "in which, after all sorts of disturbances, we would have slowly sunk into a stupor like the last stage of the Hellenic world."

But the atomic bomb forces the two great antagonistic powers to coexist; in spite of themselves they are drawn together and forced into at least a minimum amount of agreement.

"From the moment that Rome and Carthage are forced to agree because they are unable to fight, history is given a very unpredictable twist."

The West, says Toynbee, who has spoken in Escanaba as a guest of the University of Michigan, will have to adjust its liberalism and the East to temper its socialism—not only because of nuclear reality but because of the demands of an industrial society.

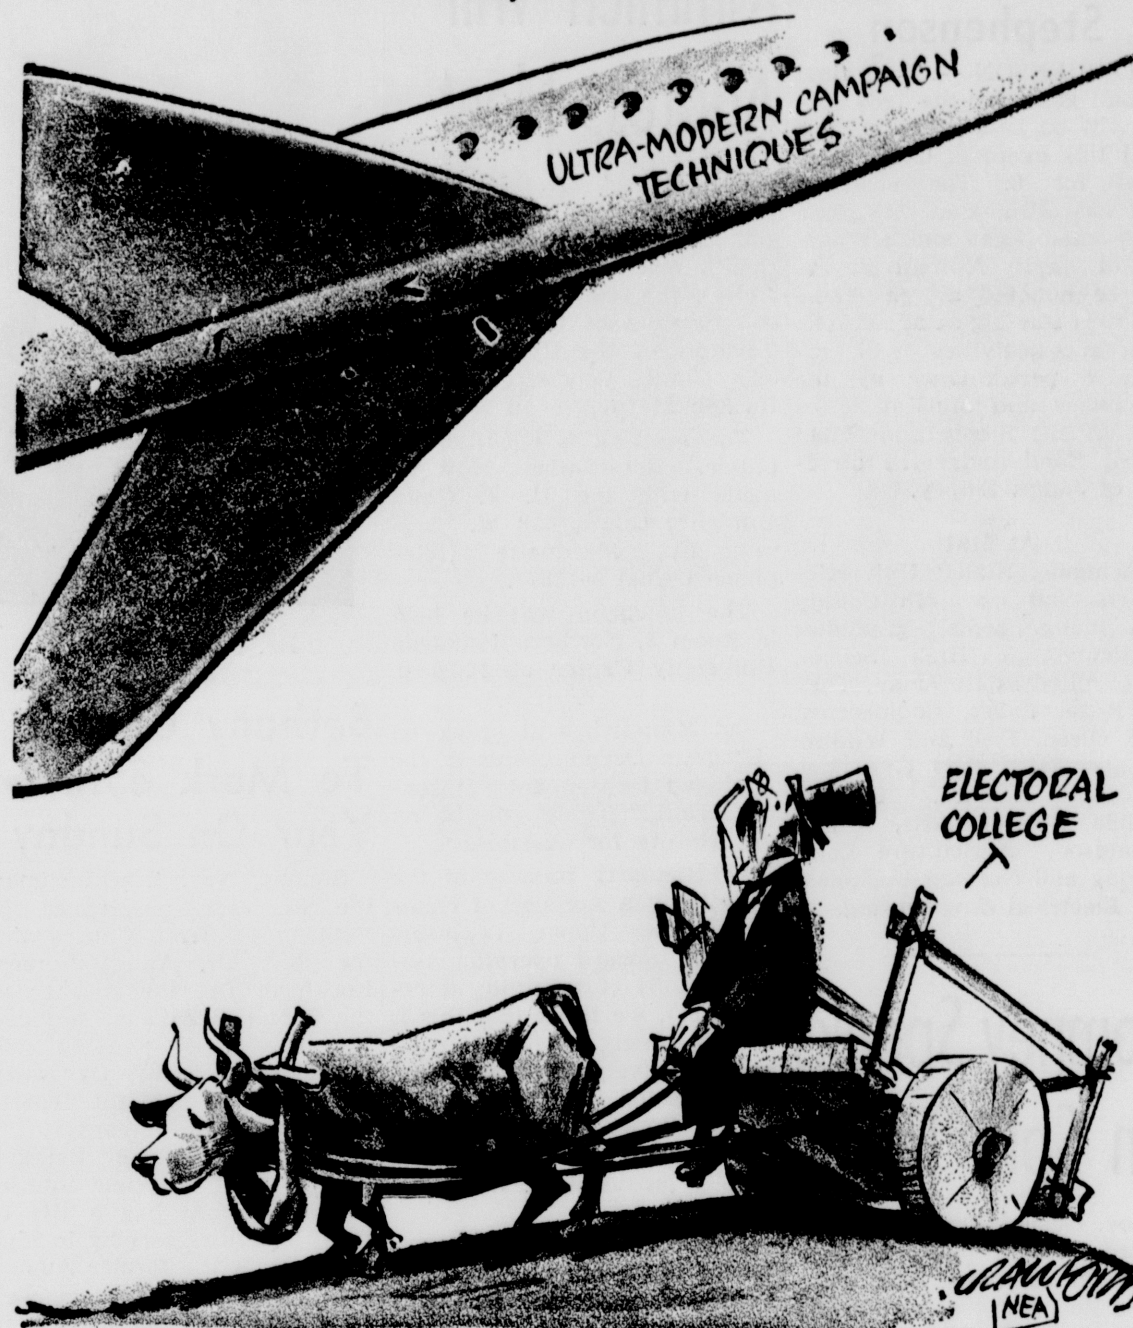

For the West, this means increased social planning; for the Communists, more concessions to the intellectual and cultural demands of the highly evolved men they are producing to run their technological society.

To the objection that communism is a fanatic ideology—almost a religion—with a claim to universal truth and is unlikely to give up its struggle to conquer the world, Toynbee points to Christianity and Mohammedanism.

Both Christianity and Islam tried to conquer the world, by sword and by book. Both tried to destroy each other.

Both are still around, 700 years after the last Crusade.

The Reception Committee

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There is growing evidence that Nikita Khrushchev fell because he undercut the individual authority of too many members of the Communist Party Central Committee and the ruling Presidium.

Reports reaching government analysts here indicate that many Red party bosses were getting ready to shuffle them out. They acted before he did.

Some time back, Khrushchev divided the power and authority of many field party men. Regional Communist party bosses, who once were supreme in both industry and agriculture, found their authority cut in half.

Khrushchev ruled that in each region there would be one party boss to handle agriculture, another to handle industry. Khrushchev brought in new, younger men. It appeared to sizable numbers of the older men that this signaled they were on their way out.

But many of these downgraded older men were still members of the Communist Party Central Committee, which has the final say on who is first party secretary and boss of the Soviet Union.

The same friction developed between Khrushchev and some older key military men who feared that they and their beliefs were losing out to newcomers. A small bloc of these older men still had votes on the Central Committee.

Khrushchev also undercut the authority of key men on the ruling Presidium. He ignored party ideologist M. A. Suslov in the way he pursued the conflict with Red China. He ignored Nikolay Podgorny, Dimitri Polyansky and Gennay Voronov in his plans for Soviet agriculture.

These were personal—not ideological—slights.

A short time back, a group of Khrushchev's trusted men quietly began consolidating the reins of power into their own hands. Khrushchev apparently helped in this, either thinking that he was strengthening his position.

Cummings-Berry

William Waynard Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Manilla of Germfask, claimed Catherine Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cummings of McMillan, for his bride in a ceremony performed at 1 p. m. Saturday at The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Church, Germfask by Priest Kerry Burns. Their attendants were Robert and Judith Berry brother and sister of the bridegroom. A reception and dance were held at Lakefield Township Hall. The couple will live in Mequon, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lustila are spending a few days vacation visiting with relatives in the Lower Peninsula and near Chicago. They also will visit their children living in Wisconsin.

The Germfask-Seney Lions Club will hold a public hunters dance at the V. F. W. Hall Nov. 14.

The Doctor Says:

Lone Kidney Diet

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q—About a year ago I had one kidney taken out. Are there any foods or drinks I should avoid?

A—This would depend on the state of your remaining kidney. If it is healthy, you need no special diet. If it is not you can probably still eat a well-balanced diet but you should cut down on your intake of salt.

Q—I had a kidney stone removed about two years ago. What foods should I avoid to prevent a recurrence? How much liquid is absolutely essential each day?

A—Although milk alone will not cause kidney stones, once they have started to form it is wise to avoid milk because it favors their production. This would apply equally to a person who had had one or more kidney stones removed because smaller ones are often left behind.

The volume of fluid in your body is maintained by balancing intake with output. You should normally get well over two quarts a day counting that which is contained in your food. In hot weather when more fluid is lost in perspiring you will need from three to six quarts depending on how active you are. Anyone who has had kidney stones should drink enough fluids to flush out the kidneys and avoid trying to squeak through on the minimum essential.

Q—My son, 28, has damaged kidneys and his doctor gives him only about two years to live. I have heard that there is an artificial kidney that can be worn on the wrist. Where can he get one?

A—Unfortunately for your son and others like him the artificial kidney cannot be worn on the wrist. It is an elaborate device used in some of our larger hospitals which allows the blood of the patient to flow through a series of filters which remove poisons and waste products in much the same way a normal kidney does and then returns the blood to the general circulation. The patient may have to be kept attached to this machine for several hours or several days.

In persons with certain types of acute poisoning this can be life saving but such an emergency mechanism can offer little benefit to a person with a chronic kidney disease. Kidney transplants are still experimental, but more than 300 have already been performed in this country and the technique is constantly being improved.

For persons with chronic kidney damage this may in years to come offer the best chance of a normal life. Your doctor may be able to interest a large research hospital or the National Institutes of Health in your son's condition.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Ann Landers

Don't Sit There, Go And Vote!

Dear Ann Landers: I am neither a Republican nor a Democrat. I am an independent who voted for Eisenhower in '56 and Kennedy in '60. At the moment I am disenchanted with both candidates for the presidency.

I've decided the best way to express my dissatisfaction is to sit home on election day and read a good book. My wife is a strong party member but I'm not saying which party she is strong for. She is presently working hard for a candidate on whom she is not completely sold. Her rationale is this: "He is a second-rater, but the candidate running against him is a fifth-rater."

My wife insists it is stupid to sit home on election day but she can't tell me why. I don't think you can tell me either, but I'm asking. Isn't this the best way to express dissatisfaction? —BALLOT BOX BLUES

Dear Box: Sitting it out on election day expresses nothing — except a denial of your responsibility as a citizen.

Someone is going to be elected, whether you vote or not. Maybe you don't have the senior hots for either of the candidates but unless you've been living in a cave these last six weeks surely you must have read and heard enough to make an intelligent choice.

How anyone can be undecided this time is beyond me. Exercise your franchise Buddy Boy!

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the 48-year-old man who gave the widow a large diamond engagement ring brought back some unpleasant memories. Having been in the same situation myself I can tell you that people can be pretty mean. So please, Ann, don't be too critical of the engaged lady who kept her ring in the drawer.

When I first appeared at work wearing my 2 carat diamond, the office supervisor said, "Was that his first wife's ring?" I answered, "I really don't know. I didn't have the nerve to ask him." Another cat announced, "A perfect stone that size would cost a fortune. Your ring probably has some flaws."

When the office nut declared a real diamond could cut glass and challenged me to prove my ring was real by cutting her

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Flood Settles At Alamo, Calif.

ALAMO, Calif. (AP) — Negro baseball star Curt Flood and his family settled into their leased $35,000 house this week after a warm greeting from their white neighbors instead of the loaded shotgun they had been warned to expect.

The St. Louis Cardinals center fielder was all smiles. His pregnant wife wept for joy.

"We think it's so fine you are here," said Mrs. Joseph Cone of Alamo, located 15 miles east of Oakland, Calif., as the Floods moved in Tuesday with the aid of a court order. "Especially since you have four children. We live just around the corner."

"I don't see anything wrong with them," said Mrs. Dan Sweeney. "My kids are thrilled. They hope he'll teach them to play baseball better."

The welcomes and a waiting, fully prepared meal reduced Flood's wife, Beverly, 25, to tears.

"I'm all choked up. We wanted a country atmosphere, a place where our kids could expand. When we saw this house, we knew it was what we wanted," Mrs. Flood said.

Flood is a native of the area and as graduated from Oakland Technical School. His wife is from St. Louis.

Moving day for the Floods included assistance from a locksmith and the sheriff of Contra Costa County.

The sheriff and 11 deputies searched the home, presumably to see if it was safe, before Flood and his wife moved in. The locksmith opened the locked house by drilling a hole in a back door, then changed all the locks for the Floods.

The Floods planned to stay with their children, Debbie, 7; Gary, 6; Curtis Jr., 4, and Shelley, 3, in an Oakland motel until their furniture arrives and utilities are turned on.

Flood, 26, obtained a temporary court restraining order Monday to be able to occupy the three-bedroom ranch-style house at Alamo, a quiet suburb of 1,791 persons.

Khrushchev Gets Pension And Car

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev is receiving a pension of 1,000 rubles a month, usually reliable sources said, and he has a chauffeur-driven car at his disposal. A thousand rubles equal $1,111 at the official rate.

These sources gave the Khrushchevs' address as 3 Granovsky St.

The former Kremlin chief was said to have taken a four-room apartment in a big red brick apartment house a block from his former Kremlin office.

The Granovsky address is an old building put up in the 1920s to house Kremlin officials. This is a short side street, normally heavily patrolled by uniformed and plainclothes policemen.

Other tenants in the building include former Premier Vyacheslav Molotov, whom Khrushchev consigned to oblivion after a Kremlin power struggle in 1957.

The apartment opposite the Khrushchevs' was reoccupied by the former Red army Marshal Georgi Zhukov, whom Khrushchev fired as defense minister in 1957.

Other top Kremlin officials whose addresses also are officially listed in the Granovsky building are: Khrushchev's successor in the premiership, Alexei N. Kosygin; and Communist party Presidium members Mikhail Suslov and Dmitry Polyansky.

Rate On Crime Up In Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's crime rate has increased 8.6 per cent during the past four years with more than 50 per cent of the major offenses being committed by juveniles, state police report.

During the same period, police said, the state's population increased 3.7 per cent.

This means the crime increase between 1960 and 1963 has been 2 1/3 times greater than the population climb during the same period, police said.

There were 1,238 criminal offenses per 100,000 population last year compared with 1,140 in 1960. Major crimes increased 14.2 per cent during the same period.

In 1963, police said, 55.8 per cent of the persons apprehended for major offenses were under 17 years of age.

Major offenses last year in the state, police said, included 242 cases of murder, 940 of rape, 6,301 of robbery, 7,370 of aggravated assault and 44,086 of burglary.

Ousted Neifert Seeks Hearing

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Ousted Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert said he has faith that Gov. George Romney "in all fairness will reconsider his hasty decision and give me a fair and impartial hearing."

His statement was published in The Dowagiac Daily News in reply to petitions sent from here Saturday to the governor by some 700 signers calling for Neifert's reinstatement as quartermaster general of the Michigan National Guard.

Neifert, a former Dowagiac resident, and two other top National Guard officers were fired by Romney recently after an investigation uncovered a land and liquor scandal allegedly involving Guard personnel.

The Dowagiac petitions had praised Neifert's "unimpeachable character and reputation."

He was a mathematics and science teacher and football coach at Dowagiac Central High School from 1947 to 1958 when he left for his National Guard assignment. He had been in the education field 23 years.

Neifert's published statement noted records showing that the National Guard reached "a higher level of prestige than ever before" under administration of the officers fired by Romney.

Missile Perfect After Months On Nuclear U-Boat

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The navy has demonstrated that its Polaris missile can perform flawlessly after months in a steel launching cocoon aboard a patrolling nuclear submarine, informed sources report.

The sources report that a sub which had been on underwater station for perhaps as long as three years successfully fired one of its undersea weapons from beneath the surface of the Atlantic Ocean for offshore.

The Polaris, reportedly an early A1 model, had been aboard the craft since it went on station. The submarine reportedly was one of the earlier vessels which went on patrol in late 1960 with the Polaris A1 model. These craft are being brought off patrol for modifications to accommodate the longer-range A3 model. The George Washington is the first scheduled for an overhaul.

Inter-Agency Child And Youth Council Named

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Thursday announced the establishment of an inter-agency council on children and youth under the newly-created Human Resources Commission.

"Through the new inter-agency council," the governor said, "we will achieve even greater coordination among state agencies with responsibilities for providing services to children and youth. And better coordination means better services, to the young people of our state, to their families and to local communities."

Membership on the inter-agency council includes the heads of 12 state agencies whose activities affect youth. Staff assistance will be supplied to the council by members of the governor's staff, the Michigan Youth Commission and member agencies.

Michigan Lakes To Try Salmon

LANSING (AP) — A new sports fish—the landlocked Kokanee salmon from Colorado—will be introduced to Michigan waters by the State Conservation Department.

This will be the first introduction of a game fish species into Michigan on a large scale under the new state fish management program adopted by the conservation commission.

The Colorado salmon is a landlocked strain of the Pacific Coast sockeye salmon. The fish are a silvery color most of their lives and resemble a lake-dwelling rainbow trout. They grow to about 14 inches long before spawning and dying and weigh around a pound, although individuals may run larger.

Ideal Sport Fish

The fish turn a deep red with dark blue backs as spawning time approaches and develop hooked jaws and humped backs.

Howard Tanner, chief of the department's fish section, said the Kokanee was selected "because costs will be low, the stock can be easily obtained and chances for success are excellent."

"They are an ideal fish for the angler with a boat and motor," he said. "We think the Kokanee can make a significant contribution to Michigan sport fishing."

The department plans first to plant the salmon in Torch and Higgins lakes in early spring. Future plans call for extensive stockings in Lake Michigan and such inland lakes as Crystal, Charlevoix, Walloon and Leelanau.

Cold And Deep

The fish section will obtain up to 2.5 million salmon eggs from Colorado about the first of the year. The eggs will go to department hatcheries at Wolf Lake, Van Buren County, and Harrietta, Wexford County, for hatching and rearing to fry size. They will be planted in the first two lakes in early spring.

The process will be repeated for three years and it is hoped Michigan will have its own source of eggs by 1968.

"We selected Torch and Higgins for the first plantings because they are big, cold and deep, and do not have large numbers of predator fish to eat up the young," Tanner explained.

State Representative — 108th District

His Bill Put The MINERS Back To Work!!!

Why is it important to the people of the 108th District and the Upper Peninsula to re-elect Rep. D. J. Jacobetti as their State Representative?

Because: Rep. D. J. Jacobetti has ten years seniority in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Because: Rep. D. J. Jacobetti serves on the Education and Conservation Committees in addition to the Liason Committee to meet with Republic leaders on key legislative matters. He was unanimously elected to the important post of Democratic Caucus Chairman.

Because: Rep. D. J. Jacobetti provides the needed leadership in Lansing and is well respected by members of both political parties. He represents Democrats, Independents and Republicans. He represents all the people with equal fairness. He has the first time to turn down a request made by one of his constituents.

Because: Rep. D. J. Jacobetti is one of the leading contenders for the important post of Speaker of the House of Representatives. He will be in a position to do more for the people of the 108th District and the Upper Peninsula.

Angle Styling Featured

SMOOTH STYLING: The prow-shaped deck porch enclosing the angled right-hand portion of this raised ranch house gives it a distinctive architectural touch that is followed through on the inside.

By ANDY LANG

The split entry or raised ranch is a favorite with architects and home buyers who like a style that permits considerable flexibility of design.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern has utilized this available flexibility in his latest creation for House of the Week. Contemporary styling takes over in this unusual home, with the right side turned at an angle for dramatic effect, yet with

H-54 STATISTICS

Design H-54 has 1813 square feet of living area on the upper level, including a living room, dining room, kitchen, three bedrooms and two bathrooms, but not including the large deck porch at the front and the smaller one at the rear. There are 1164 square feet of habitable area on the lower level, including a family-recreation room 26' by 19', but not including the two-car garage, storage space and sunken porch. Overall dimensions are 71'2" by 36'3".

no loss of practicality for gracious, large-family living. It is impossible to view this house, either from the outside or the inside, without being impressed by the striking placement of its components. Although its over-all dimensions are a modest 71'2" by 36'3", it is a five-bedroom, three-bath house with an amazing 2977 square feet of living area, not including a spa deck porch, two other spacious deck porches, two other porches and the two-car garage. And because of the raised-ranch design, the lower level—with its huge family-recreation room, two bedrooms, a bath and a laundry room—is higher than a basement, has larger windows and gets more sunlight.

The boldness of design applies to more than the angled plan. Note the impressive front entrance, with the glass squares surrounding the door; the prow-shaped deck porch; the similarly-shaped living room with almost an entire wall of level reception hall, excellent sliding glass; and the upper as a guest introduction area. And see how the garage is invisible from the front, its two windows blending in perfectly with the rest of the house.

The circulation is good and well-controlled from the flagstone foyer to either level. An open balcony at the stairs adds a touch of elegance. Besides the previously-mentioned 18 feet of sliding glass, the living room has a large fireplace just off the reception hall. From this area it is easy to move out to the large deck porch at the front or, through the dining room, to the smaller deck porch at the rear, also accessible through sliding glass doors. The living room ceiling is the cathedral type which follows the underside of the rafters.

What lady could resist a kitchen 20 feet long, with every conceivable modern appliance? And there's a curved wall at the second stairs in the house around which another open balcony is designed.

The master bedroom has a bath and shower, a walk-in closet, two other closets and a handy vanity section. Another bath is conveniently located between two other bedrooms. There are two linen closets in the hall.

Two more bedrooms are on

FLOOR PLANS: Both levels of this split entry lend themselves to clever decorative treatments because of the angled but practical arrangement of some of the rooms, including the porch-enclosed living room.

Great Lakes Gates Proposed

MENOMINEE (AP)—A system of gates to control water flows out of the Lake Michigan-Huron Basin is the only complete solution to water level problems in the basin, a Democratic candidate for congress said today.

Raymond Clevenger said, though, that building such a system in the Port Huron stretch of the St. Clair River could cost as much as $2 billion.

"This appears to be the price we must pay for a century of neglect and misuse of one of our greatest natural resources, the fresh flowing water of the Great Lakes system," he said in a campaign speech.

Gates on the St. Marys River, together with the five shipping locks and three water power canals, "have maintained Lake Superior at a stable level for the past 30-odd years," he said. If a system of locks and gates is not built in the St. Clair River, Clevenger said, "we will continue to have cycles of lower water and high water in the Michigan-Huron Basin."

William R. King, elected vice president of the U. S. in 1952, never assumed his duties because of ill health.

how to blow a fuse... and blackout your house!

It's pretty annoying to plug in an electric appliance and then—a blown fuse... and the house is blacked out!

But if you create an "octopus" outlet—too many lamps and electrical uses plugged into one outlet—you're asking for blown fuses and blackouts. The answer: bring your home's wiring up-to-date, so it can handle the modern electrical equipment you enjoy. In many homes, people are adding uses of electricity—air conditioners, TV, irons, toasters and others—without adding to the home's wiring system.

Trio Awarded Physics Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) —Dr. Charles H. Townes of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and two Russian scientists who have been his house guests were jointly awarded the 1964 Nobel Prize for Physics for their contributions to the maser light beam.

At the same time the 1964 prize for chemistry was awarded Dorothy Crowfoot-Hodgkin, 54, a biochemist of Oxford University, England, for her determination by X-ray techniques of the structures of important biochemical compounds.

Windup For 1964
These prizes, each totaling $53,123, wind up this year's presentations from the foundation established by Alfred Nobel, the inventor of dynamite.

The maser beam, which greatly amplifies radio signals, has become commonly known as both a possible "death ray" and a potential means of aiding man in medicine. It has led to a revolution in radio and physics. Maser concentrates light energy similar to the way that a magnifying glass can concentrate the sun's rays.

Half the physics monetary award will go to Dr. Townes and half to the Russians, Prof. Nikolay Basov and Aleksander Prochorov of Moscow. Dr. Townes heard the news in Pasadena, Calif., where he is attending a meeting of a National Aeronautics and Space Administration advisory committee on manned space flight.

"I'm very excited and honored," he said. He telephoned his wife at their home in Cambridge, Mass., that he was thrilled. Mrs. Townes said her husband "has been so excited with this field since he made the first maser work in 1955."

Russians "Charming"
Mrs. Townes said the Russian physicists have been their house guests in Cambridge and "both are charming men."

Dr. Townes, 49, is a native of Greenville, S.C. He conceived the idea for the beam in 1951. He and his students also coined the word "maser," which stands for microwave amplification by stimulated emission of radiation.

The 1964 Nobel awards previously announced: Peace — Dr. Martin Luther King of the United States.

Medicine — Dr. Konrad Bloch, German-born American, and Dr. Feodor Lynen of West Germany.

Literature — Jean-Paul Sartre of France. He has rejected the prize.

Prizes will be formally awarded in Stockholm Dec. 10, Nobel's birthday.

First American law school was founded at Litchfield, Conn., in 1784.

'Heart Banks' Seen In Future

NEW YORK (AP) — A medical team has taken a giant step toward the day when surgeons may replace an ailing human heart with one taken from a dead person.

The team reports that a mongrel puppy which received a heart transplanted from another, unrelated dog is still alive and "very active" six months later—a record.

The doctors named her Eterna. "As her name might imply, she's expected to have a normal life expectancy," according to leader of the medical team, Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, director of surgical services at Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn.

Eterna was five or six weeks old when she underwent the transplant last April 24 at the hospital's Edward Neimeth Institute for Medical Research. "She's kind of a pet around here," Dr. Kantrowitz said Thursday. "She has the freedom of the institute and romps around as she pleases, except at night when she's kept in a special room."

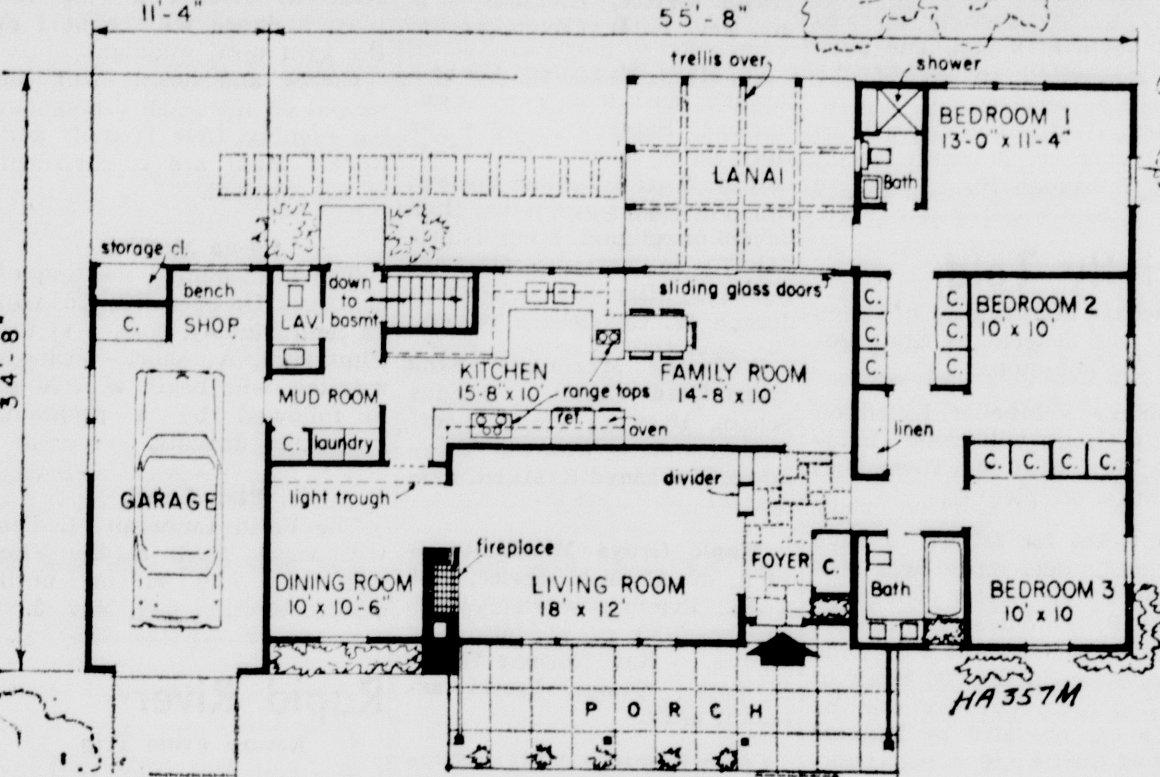

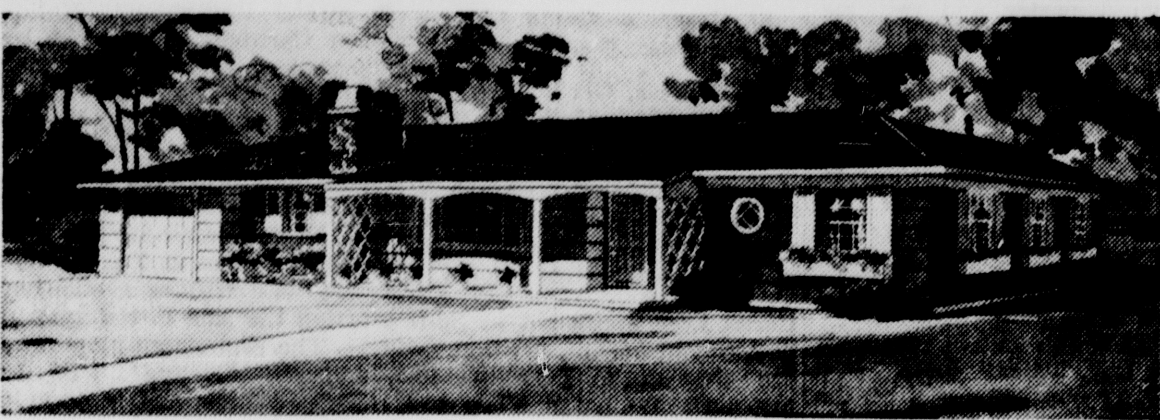

The team also reported that it was working out a way to store the surgically removed heart of a dog for more than 24 hours. The technique is not perfected, Dr. Kantrowitz said, but it does portend a start toward the development of human "heart banks" for cardiac patients.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

COLONIAL atmosphere is promoted on the exterior of H4357M by the overhanging roof, six-panel door, six-over-six windows, bull's eye window, bay window, lattice work and posts, stone chimney with cement top and shutters and flower boxes. The combination kitchen-family room gives an open feeling to the home. Much glass area allows the housewife to supervise children playing outside as well as in the family room. The mud room gives entry to the basement without entering the house, provides hanging-up facilities and space for washer and dryer. Bedrooms are in their own wing. Architect is Rudolph A. Arson Involved In Shortage Of Lions Club Fund

STANTON (AP) — William Lint, 40, of Edmore, was free on $500 bond today to await circuit court arraignment on a charge of arson involving Lions Club funds.

Lint, ousted secretary of the Edmore Lions Club, waived justice court examination Wednesday.

State Police Sgt. Orville Rouse of the fire marshal's division quoted Lint as admitting an attempt to burn the Lint home and destroy Lions Club books and records to cover an alleged $322 shortage.

Dr. Thomas Deurloo, a member of the Lions Club board of directors, reported this week, however, that "all funds known to have been missing have been returned."

Lansing To Close Street For Mall

LANSING (AP) — After approving the closing of part of a downtown street for a business district mall, members of Lansing's Urban Redevelopment Board said Thursday they expect to begin property acquisition in December.

They delegated board director Winston E. Folkers to negotiate a $3.8 million loan from the Federal Urban Renewal Agency to begin buying land and buildings within the 48-acre project development.

Minor Parties Still In Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph B. Lightburn doesn't want to be counted out of the presidential race.

"If it goes into the House, they wouldn't have to put Johnson or Goldwater in. They could easily put me in," says Lightburn, the presidential candidate of the Constitution party.

E. Harold Munn, however, takes what he considers a realistic view.

"Of course, there's no possibility of it," he says, regarding his chances next Tuesday. Munn is running on the Prohibition party ticket.

Lightburn and Munn are among at least eight minor party presidential candidates, running in one or more states or seeking write-in ballots next Tuesday.

Special Cause For Each
Each has his cause: few have much hope. In 1960, the minor party nominees polled less than one of every 200 votes.

For Lightburn, a Jane Lew, W. Va., merchant and a hurried substitute when Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace declined to accept the Constitution party designation, the cause is "a return to constitutionalism."

For Munn, the cause is to "apply Christian principles to government," attacking "creeping socialism, encroaching communism, growing secularism, pornography and alcoholism."

For the States Rights party, it is—as vice-presidential candidate J. B. Stoner of Birmingham put it — "to repeal all civil rights laws."

Munn Campaigns
And for Henry Krajewski, the Secaucus, N.J., pig farmer turned tavern keeper, it is "to run against two millionaires as a poor man's representative."

Two of the minor parties are

Bathrooms Can Be Luxurious

AP Newsfeatures
Why put the family jewels in a vault when you can look at them every day safely anchored in something solid around the house, like the bathroom water faucets.

One woman did just that with a couple of treasured cameos for a unique motif, says Stanley Paul, whose business is hardware and decorative accessories. He had the cameos installed in the pop-up knobs in her lavatory.

"The bathroom has been the stepchild of the house, decoratively speaking, until recently. But now about 75 per cent of our business is in luxury items like gold and silver plated fixtures for the bath," he says.

Paul, a member of the American Society of Architectural Consultants, plans bathrooms for decorators who do not like the bother of the technical details required in new-style bathrooms.

Though they do modern, Oriental, federal and any other style bathroom one desires, Louis XVI is the play today in trend-setting New York, Paul says, mainly because of its classic simplicity. Swans, dolphins and lions head motif are likely to become tiresome after awhile but the traditional reed and ribbon motif of the Louis period withstands the ages because of its regal lines, he says. It's a safe bet — a good investment.

Handsome crystal knobs are used on faucets and bathroom cabinets. In gold plate, silver plate, chrome or brass one can find hexagon, pine cone, melon and other good design. Pewter fixtures are very popular.

Even the glass, soap, toothbrush, tissue holders and medicine chest cabinets that are recessed have handsome moldings in bamboo, wreath, greek key and reed and ribbon design. And in some instances these same designs are carried right into the wash basin.

"Who would have thought a few years ago that our catalog companies would be selling decorated wash basins? It looked like a high style item that would have limited appeal. But the demand shows the interest in dressing up the bathroom," Paul says.

Designs in the basins include fleur de lis, butterfly, bow knot, Greek key, scroll and wedding band designs.

Sink cabinets are stock items or custom made. Many have marble tops, and in many instances match marble floors. Marble tubs and back splashes are popular. One tub ordered from Paul and his brother, who are partners, was from a solid hunk of marble that had been chiseled at a cost of $5,000.

People will spend anything for the luxury items available today in decorative hardware. One Texan ordered solid gold light switches in a Louis pattern. He bought 15 at $650 apiece.

Michigan needs men of stature on the new COURT OF APPEALS

Austin Doyle is not a professional politician but an experienced lawyer respected and endorsed by other lawyers. He has an outstanding record as FBI Agent, Michigan State Bar Commissioner and 21 year's experience as a trial lawyer. Long active in civic, church and Bar Assn. affairs, (Knights of Columbus, Optimists, and Elks) ... he loves people, the law, and sound government.

Elect AUSTIN J. DOYLE Judge
(Non-Partisan Judicial Ballot Nov. 3)

Why the Court of Appeals is important—Designed to provide faster, less costly settlement of appeals, it will be the Court of Last Resort for the average citizen. Practically all criminal, divorce, civil lawsuit appeals, etc., will be settled here, leaving the Supreme Court freer to deliberate constitutional questions.

MANISTIQUE

Sears Catalog Store Planned

Plans for the opening of a Sears Roebuck & Co. authorized catalog sales and merchant store in Manistique were announced Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. J. Holger Ostlund of Escanaba.

The store, which will be managed by Mrs. Ostlund, will be located at 203 S. Cedar and is tentatively scheduled to open Nov. 19.

Remodeling operations on the building began Tuesday, Mrs. Ostlund said. New floor tiling, wall paneling, peg board display racks and lighting will be installed.

A former employee of the Escanaba Sears catalog store, Mrs. Ostlund said the Manistique store will stock all major appliances, plus a complete line of tires and batteries.

The store's catalog sales department will be served by Chicago warehouses, she said.

Mrs. Ostlund said she would commute to Manistique from Escanaba to manage the store until family moving arrangements have been completed.

Mr. Ostlund, a graduate of Escanaba High School and Cloverland Commercial College, has been an employee of Mead Corp. in Escanaba for 18 years. The couple has four children, John, 14; Jim, 10; Peter, 8; and Kathleen, 5.

Under Sears' merchant store arrangements, Mrs. Ostlund will have complete charge of the operation. She said she would hire an assistant manager, two part-time office girls and a stock boy to assist her.

College Is Help To Whirlybirds In Blade Tests

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Helicopter manufacturers are crediting Northwestern Michigan College here with providing "a major breakthrough" toward smoother operating, safer whirlybirds.

Stronger rotor blades and greater riding comfort are the expected results of computations achieved by NMC physics instructor George Kuhn.

Using a recently installed digital computer and incorporating a mathematical theory published last July by University of Michigan professors J. G. Eiseley and Gabriel Isakson, Kuhn's program details more precisely than in the past the natural vibration rate of rotor blades.

The computations were requested by Parsons Corp. here, a leader in helicopter rotor blade manufacture.

Cornell Silvinsky, Parsons engineering department head, said the firm already is proceeding with new blade design concepts on the newly obtained information.

B. C. Chatfield Taken By Death

Well known Gladstone resident, Benjamin C. Chatfield, 69, of 1102 Michigan Ave., died at 2:30 a.m. at St. Francis Hospital today.

Mr. Chatfield had been in failing health for the past year and entered the hospital Wednesday.

He was born July 30, 1895 in Menominee and for many years operated the Chatfield Machine and Foundry Co. of Escanaba and Gladstone. For the past 15 years he has traveled for Star Tire and Rubber Co.

He served in World War I with the 71st Regiment of the Coast Artillery Corps. He was a member of the Gladstone Rotary Club, serving as secretary, and a member of the August Mattson Post of American Legion, the Delta County Sportsmen's Club and the Gladstone Men's Bridge Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Pearl Kress of Escanaba whom he married April 12, 1921.

The body was taken to the Kelley Funeral Home.

Kathleen Mikulich, Timothy O'Reilly Wed

Kathleen Diane Mikulich and Timothy Stephen O'Reilly repeated their marriage vows in a ceremony at St. Rita's Catholic Church in Trenary Oct. 24. Father Aloysius Hasenberg officiated before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and mums.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mikulich of Trenary and Mr. and Mrs. Myles P. O'Reilly, 6866 Howdershell Rd., Hazelwood, Mo.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white acetate tulle and Chantilly lace. The all-lace bodice featured long tapered sleeves and a sequin and pearl trimmed Sabrina neckline. The controlled skirt had a back bow at the waistline. Her jewelry was a necklace worn by her mother and maternal grandmother on their wedding day.

Honor maid, Marcia Bartoz, a cousin of the bride, wore a street length dress of red velvet with scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and flared skirt.

Another cousin of the bride, Robert Debelak, was best man and the ushers were Ronald Smith and Joe Hrapkowski.

The reception was held in St. Rita's parish hall.

After a honeymoon in Wisconsin and a visit with the bridegroom's family, the couple will leave for Toul Rosieres Air Force Base in France, where they will reside.

The bride is a graduate of Trenary High School and Business Institute of Milwaukee. She formerly was a secretary at Northern Michigan University, Marquette. Her husband entered the Air Force service following his graduation from St. Thomas of Aquinas.

Promenaders Pow-Wow Here Saturday Night

The Promenaders Square Dance Club will hold its second annual Autumn Pow-Wow Saturday evening, beginning at 9, at the Teamsters Hall, upper floor. A workshop will be held starting at 8:30.

Les Fuhrman of Mason, Mich., again will be the caller. All Promenaders are asked to attend and meet their new officers who will be introduced at 10 p. m. Spectators are welcome, as usual, as well as all area square and round dancers.

Darlene Williams Is The Bride Of Arthur Lorenz

Darlene Williams of Arlington Heights, Ill., formerly of Wells, and Arthur Lorenz of Bensonville, Ill., were married in a 5 p. m. candlelight ceremony Oct. 10 in Central Methodist Church, Escanaba.

The Rev. Robert Selberg solemnized the double ring service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams of Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Christian Lorenz of Bensonville.

The reception for one hundred guests was held at the Chicken Shack.

In the bridal party were Frances Williams, honor maid, Victoria Burgess and Rita Stasewich of Arlington Heights, bridesmaids, Kathy Williams, sister of the bride, who was junior bridesmaid, Ronald Gayle, Arlington Heights, who served as best man, Arnold Lorenz and Roger Eubank, groomsmen, Richard Schwartz and Robert Pelkey, ushers and Karen Foskett and Scott Pelkey who served as miniature bride and ring bearer.

The bride's gown of white satin was styled with a scoop neckline, long sleeves and Dior back. Her veil was caught to a cabbage rose headpiece. She carried a cascade of blue and white pompons and feathered mums, centered with a white orchid.

Her attendants wore ballerina length dresses of ming blue chiffon with long sleeves and full skirts. Their veiled hats were of matching shade and blue and white carnations formed their corsages.

Mrs. Williams wore brown accessories and a yellow carnation corsage with her beige tweed three-piece suit. Mrs. Lorenz chose a dress of green brocade with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride was graduated from Escanaba High School in 1961 and both she and her husband are employed by Conex Corp. in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Arnold B. Luedke (Gordon Nelson Photo)

Miss Nordquist Bride Of Arnold B. Luedke

St. Anne's Catholic Church of Escanaba was the setting for the wedding of Marilyn R. Nordquist and Arnold B. Luedke of Milwaukee. The 11 a. m. ceremony performed Saturday, Oct. 24, by Father William Richards, was followed by a reception from 4 to 9 at the Chicken Shack.

The newlyweds are touring the Upper Peninsula and Canada and, following their honeymoon, will be at home at 2018 S. 37th St. in Milwaukee. Honor attendant for the bride who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nordquist, Bark River Rte. 1, was her sister, Sandra Mae Nordquist. Mr. Luedke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuhnke of 1724 S. 37th St., Milwaukee, had George Mazur of Milwaukee, as his best man. Ushers were a brother, Dennis Kuhnke, and Jerome Bowden, a cousin of the bride.

A white floor length gown of satepeau with A-line skirt and high midriff was worn by the bride. Swiss embroidered scroll work detailed the front of the dress. The sleeves were long and tapered and the detachable train was held by a high back bow. Her waist-length veil of pure silk imported English illusion was secured by a Swedish type crown of tiny pearls and rhinestones. White carnations and baby mums and pink sweetheart roses formed her colonial bouquet.

Sandra Mae's dress of deep turquoise tulle with a detachable sweeping floor length overskirt with cutaway front and rose trim. She wore a matching headpiece with illusion veiling and she carried pink carnations and white baby mums.

Mrs. Nordquist wore matching accessories and a corsage of white mums and pink roses with her two-piece dress of cranberry print. Mrs. Kuhnke was attired in a moss green sheath with brocade trim. Her accessories were a matching shade and her corsage was white mums and yellow roses.

The former Miss Nordquist was graduated from Escanaba High School in 1959 and is employed as a secretary by Touche, Ross, Bailey & Smart, an accounting firm. Mr. Luedke, a graduate of South Division High School, Milwaukee, is in the painting and decorating business.

Story Time Will Feature Halloween Tales

All boys and girls who enjoy Halloween and all of its mystery and adventure are invited to a special Halloween program at the Escanaba Public Library this Saturday.

Story Time program will be held at 10 a. m. in the Children's Room. The program will be broadcast live over WLST at 6 minutes after 10.

If they wish, all the boys and girls who attend may dress in their Halloween costumes and time will be taken in the program to talk with those who do appear in costume. Prizes will be awarded for three categories of costumes, the scariest, the prettiest, and the most unusual.

All boys and girls of the age of three and above are invited to attend.

The story for the program will be "The Witch of Hissing Hill," a story of a yellow cat born on a hill where only black cats should live as it was a hill for witches and black cats. If time permits, two other stories will be read about the witches and ghosts of Halloween.

Social-Club League Party

Luther Leaguers of Christ the King Lutheran Church reported over 70 in attendance including guest youth from First United Presbyterian Church at the Halloween party sponsored by Christ the King youth.

Noa Home Party

A Halloween party was held Thursday evening for residents of the Bishop Noa Home. Refreshments were provided by Father Frank Ignatz, retired priest resident, and an apple bobbing demonstration was given by the Sisters of St. Paul de Chartres, members of the staff. Other recreation in keeping with the season followed.

Senior Citizens

The Senior Citizen Social Club held a Halloween party at its Wednesday evening meeting at Club 314 with 55 members in attendance. Colorful costumes added to the fun of the evening, with Mrs. Chester Schoen and Lillian Rowe receiving the prizes. The first prize, a large pumpkin, was donated by Albert LaMarsh. Cards and dancing and group singing led by Mrs. Ed Olson were included in the evening's entertainment, followed by lunch. The next meeting will be held Nov. 11.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Methodist Churches Plan Pastor Exchange

The Methodist churches of Michigan will begin their active participation in "An Evangelistic Adventure for Christ" Sunday, Nov. 1. Across the state of Michigan pastors from the Methodist churches will be exchanging pulpits Sunday, Nov. 1, and Sunday, Nov. 8. During the period between these two Sunday exchanges, services of devotional and inspirational nature will be observed among the participating congregations.

Coming to the Central Methodist Church of Escanaba and the Cornell Methodist Church will be the Rev. Ralph D. Churchill, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Saginaw. Mr. Churchill is a graduate of Albion College and Garrett Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill. Before his appointment at First Methodist in Saginaw, he served in Cedarburg, Wis., and three Michigan churches, Court Street, Flint, Epworth in Saginaw, and Caro. He is one of the leaders of Michigan Methodism, having four extremely important positions dealing with educational standards.

Preaching at the Memorial Methodist Church of Gladstone will be the Rev. Martin G. Seitz, presently pastor of the Sheridan Avenue Methodist church of Saginaw. Mr. Seitz served Michigan churches at Pinconning and Cheboygan before going to Saginaw.

These men will be in the

BLUE SHIELD ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

Blue Shield coverage can be carried into retirement...

How can I get Blue Shield coverage when I retire from the company where I had group coverage?

Your Blue Shield protection goes right along with you. You need not re-apply. There is no waiting period.

What distinguishes Blue Shield from most medical insurance companies?

Among others, Blue Shield offers you these unique advantages: Service benefits based on your needs as opposed to rigid cash settlements. Protection regardless of age or condition of health.

Why doesn't Blue Shield cover routine examinations or "check ups"?

Because the resulting expense would be greater than Blue Shield or any health care protection plan could possibly afford. Blue Shield does, of course, pay the doctor's fee when his service is in connection with the diagnosis or treatment of an injury.

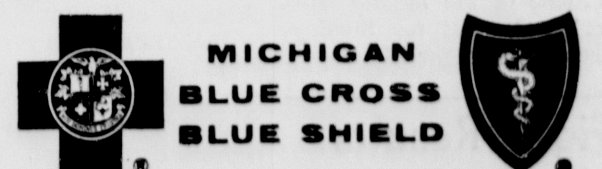

Are my Blue Shield benefits still in effect if I get injured or ill while outside of Michigan?

Yes. Your Michigan Blue Shield provides for you wherever you go.

About how many medical bills does Blue Shield pay in a year?

In 1963 Blue Shield paid for more than 3,200,000 services—nearly one for every subscriber.

Do you have a question about your Blue Shield coverage? Just write Dept. 54, Michigan Medical Service, 441 E. Jefferson, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Now! Join Blue Cross-Blue Shield without belonging to a group if you are under 65. Get your application from your doctor, hospital or nearest Blue Cross-Blue Shield office.

FTA Chapter Will Sponsor Parents Night

STEPHENSON—Stephenson High School Chapter of Future Teachers of America is planning a Parents Night for all parents of students from grades 7 through 12 to be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 10. The program will begin promptly at 7:45.

The planning committee is making arrangements to send each child's schedule to the parents along with a list of suggestions which parents may wish to check to give teachers a better idea of what they would like to have discussed.

The program will open in the physical education building where greetings and instructions will be given by Lory Phillipppo, FTA president. There will be six classes of about 12 minutes each with four minutes between periods for passing. After the classes, a lunch will be served in the Commons area of the high school annex.

Mrs. Judith Solander and John Sundquist are the advisors of the Chapter.

THE MANISTIQUE Emeralds are one of only two undefeated football teams in the Upper Peninsula entering the final weekend of action. Coach Dick Bonifas has guided his gridders to seven straight victories entering the finale against Holy Name at the Escanaba Athletic Field Saturday afternoon at 2. In addition to the undefeated status, Manistique has the distinction of owning the best defensive record in the Peninsula. The Emeralds have allowed only two touchdowns for 12 points in their seven starts. They have scored 160 points. Manistique is co-champion with Escanaba in the 1964 Great Lakes Conference race.

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

Coach Stan Albeck will have several well known Upper Peninsula prep basketball names on his Northern Michigan University roster this season. Included will be Con Yagodzinski of Holy Name, Tim Bullock of Marquette, Bill Koski of Champion, Bruce Forstrom of Marquette and Les Coduti of Ishpeming.

When the Great Lakes Conference coaches select their all-conference football players at the fall meeting in Munising Nov. 5 they will have quite a list of stars to choose from. Seven players made the first or second team selections as underclassmen last fall. Included in that list are Steve Oman and Jim Clairmont of Escanaba, Jerry Hittman of Stephenson, Rich Hoholik of Manistique, Joe Howie of Soo, Jerry Pertinen of Marquette and Mike Tunturi of Ishpeming.

The Menominee-Marquette football rivalry began 70 years ago this week and the series is listed as the sixth oldest in the nation. The series started off with a scoreless tie in 1894.

The Friday night Kingsford-Iron Mountain game is expected to draw the largest crowd in the history of the sport at the Flivver field. The game will mark the 39th renewal of that bitter rivalry between neighboring communities. Iron Mountain has the series edge, 22-13-3.

Dick Bull, 25 year old native of Racine, has been named golf professional at Little River Country Club. Bull is a brother of Steve Bull, professional at Tripoli Country Club in Milwaukee and current Wisconsin Open and PGA champion.

John Kortjesma of Maple High School was elected president of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference at its fall meeting this week. The conference schools will vote by mail on the application by Superior Cathedral for membership. The school has an enrollment of 407 students.

Don Fontana, 37 year old kegler from Iron Mountain has received an invitation to compete in the exclusive World Invitational bowling tournament at Chicago Nov. 19-29 as well as the ABC Masters in St. Paul May 22-26. Fontana finished fourth in the Peterson Classic at Chicago last spring, earning $3,500 for his eight game total of 1635 pins, an average of 204. He carries a 198 average in two Iron Mountain leagues this season.

Fraser's Outfit Can Cinch Title

By The Associated Press

Only Alma stands in the way as Albion tries for its third MIAA football championship in four years and its third outright league title under Coach Morley Fraser Saturday.

The Britons, who shared the title with Kalamazoo and Hope last year, need two more victories to complete an undefeated season. They last turned the trick in 1961.

While Albion will be playing host to the Scots, Olivet hopes to clinch second place when it travels to Hope. Adrian is at Kalamazoo in the other league finale.

Detroit and Miami of Florida open the weekend schedule to-night in the Motor City.

Action involving the state's major teams Saturday finds Michigan State at Wisconsin, Northwestern at Michigan and Western Michigan at Marshall.

There are only three other games in the state Saturday—Youngstown at Central Michigan, Western Reserve at Eastern Michigan and Edinboro, Pa., at Michigan Tech.

Michigan Tech finished its Northern Intercollegiate Conference season last week and ended up in fourth place.

Wayne State is at Case Tech, Ferris State at Ohio Northern, Northwestern at Ashland and Hillsdale at Eastern Illinois in the other games.

Northern Michigan is not scheduled.

Golf Tourney Will Be Wet

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A field of 130 professionals was set to slosh through the opening round today of the $25,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament after rain forced a one-day postponement.

The finals of the 72-hole tourney, originally set for Sunday, were rescheduled for Monday.

Yogi, Stengel On Same Team?

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) —

Golfer Yogi Berra will likely have something to say after a vacation about the latest development in his baseball career.

The ex-manager of the New York Yankees was reached at his home by telephone Thursday night on the eve of his departure for a 10-day golfing holiday at Pinehurst, N.C.

"What about this New York Mets business, Yogi?" he was asked.

A brief pause followed, punctuated by what sounded like the rattle of golf clubs from the Berra end of the line.

"We understand," the question continued, "that Mets President George Weiss wants you in his organization, that he considers you 'A man with a great deal of baseball knowledge and popularity.'"

"Yeah, we talked," said Berra. He referred to a meeting Wednesday with Weiss in New York City.

"And what did you say?"

"I said I'm going to think about it."

"Think about what? What did he offer you?"

"Well, I don't have anything to say now."

Berra was equally uncommunicative after he was fired as manager of the Yanks on Oct. 16. The Yanks had won the American League pennant, then lost the World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games.

Berra was offered a two-year contract as a special field consultant to General Manager Ralph Houk, but no contract was signed.

In New York Thursday, Weiss said there has been "no concrete discussion of any type of job he might be interested in." But Weiss said he wanted Berra and understood that he was a free agent.

Bullets Rally; Defeat Lakers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The

Los Angeles Lakers sat uneasily atop their laurels in the National Basketball Association's Western Division today — slightly nerve-wracked that their laurels are wearing thin on the bottom.

The Baltimore Bullets posted a 98-95 victory over the Lakers Thursday night in the only game scheduled.

The Bullets came from behind late in the third quarter, when they trailed 65-63, to edge out the Lakers for the first victory in three games this season with Los Angeles.

The Baltimore win gives the Bullets a 3-5 season record, while the Lakers still lead the Western Division with 4-2, one game ahead of St. Louis at 2-2.

Silvestri, a hard-running halfback, has been plagued with a pulled muscle for several weeks. He has a four-yard average in 33 carries as the Badgers have compiled a 2-3 overall record.

Absent from Wisconsin's starting defensive line-up will be linebacker Bob Richter and halfback Tom Brigham and Ron Fran.

Michigan State has come up with new offensive punch and the Spartans exhibited it last week in defeating Northwestern 24-6, their second triumph in five starts.

In the last two games Michigan State's left halfback, Dick Gordon, has averaged almost 100 yards rushing, while quarterback Steve Juday has passed for five touchdowns and completed 40 of 73 aeriels.

"Juday throws real well and they also have an outstanding receiver who has gained stature every week," Bruhn noted.

He referred to sophomore Gene Washington, a 6-foot-2 former Texas prep high and low hurdles champion. Washington has caught 16 passes for 251 yards, four touchdowns and a 15.6 average.

Crusaders Face Undefeated Foe In Grid Finale

Coach Bob Nystrom's Holy

Name Crusaders will face the rugged task of seeking to stop Manistique's bid for a perfect football season when the teams clash here in the 1964 finale Saturday afternoon.

Manistique will carry a record of seven straight victories into the contest which will start at 2 at the Escanaba Athletic Field. Coach Dick Bonifas' gridders have chalked up successive triumphs over Stephenson, Munising, Gladstone, Soo, Petoskey, Marquette and Newberry.

The Emeralds, who share this year's Great Lakes Conference championship with Escanaba, own the best defensive record in the Upper Peninsula. They have allowed single touchdowns to Stephenson and Newberry while blanking their other foes.

Manistique is primarily a ground team, if past performance is any indication. The Emeralds have piled up 1,477 yards rushing to 414 passing.

Manistique backs have carried the ball 297 times in seven games, averaging five yards per trip. Two quarterbacks have tried only 47 passes, clicking on 26 of them.

Jerry Belleville heads the balanced backfield with 104 carries for 551 yards and has scored 48 points. Don Lee has carried 61 for 414 and has 17 points. Doug Nelson has 64 carries, 277 yards and 25 points.

Darryl Carlson 33 carries for 119 yards and 21 points. Rod

Weber 23 carries, 71 yards and 6 points.

Nelson is the top passer with 20 completions in 37 tosses for 266 yards and 4 touchdowns. Carlson has hit on 5 of 7 for 118 yards and 2 TDs.

On the receiving end, Mike Gray has caught 8 for 135 yards and 2 touchdowns while Jon Cameron has 5 for 53 yards, Dave Demars 3 for 56, Belleville 7 for 67 and Lee 2 for 96.

Defensively the Emeralds have held their opponents to 549 yards rushing and 309 passing.

The host Crusaders will be seeking to stop Manistique with a squad that has been hard hit by injuries. Nystrom will be without the services of Peter Petr, Bill Menard, John D'Amour and John Lehouillier and with Tom Bartol and Mike Kangas on the "limited action" list.

Holy Name opened the season by running off four straight shutout victories over Rudyard, Menominee, Munising and Alpena Catholic before suffering setbacks to Kingsford and Preble. The Crusaders returned to the victory column with a decision over Calumet last week.

Leading the Holy Name offense this fall has been quarterback Frank Trotter and halfback Tom Meinz while Eugene Fregetto has been the team's defensive leader.

Parents of the Holy Name gridders will be honored prior to the game and will sit together during the contest.

Bucks, Purdue Risk Fortunes

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten

co-leaders, Ohio State and Purdue, risk their football fortunes in top games Saturday.

The unbeaten No. 1-ranked Buckeyes invade Iowa, where they have won only once in five trips. Purdue celebrates its homecoming against once-beaten Illinois.

Ohio State and Purdue have 3-0 conference marks. Iowa is 1-2, having lost its last two outings to Purdue and Wisconsin after defeating Indiana. Illinois is 2-1, bouncing back to defeat Minnesota and UCLA after a 26-0 blasting from the Bucks.

In other games, Northwestern (1-3) is at Michigan (2-1), Minnesota (1-2) at Indiana (1-3) and Michigan State (1-2) at Wisconsin (1-2).

Ohio State is rated a 13-point choice by the oddsmakers despite the upset possibility on the wings of Iowa's Gary Snook. He has passed for 1,285 yards and hit for seven touchdowns in five games.

Ohio State has one of its most diversified attacks, led by the running and passing of Don Unverferth and the power thrusts of fullback Willard Sander. The Buckeyes have yielded 702 yards to aeriels and two touchdowns.

Illinois is a three-point choice at Purdue. The Illini may have to depend upon the passing of Fred Custardo more than usual because of the rugged Boilermaker defense against rushing.

The Boilermakers have a sound club brightened by a pair of exceptional sophomores, quarterback Bob Griese and pass defender George Catosvolos.

Michigan, whose only loss was 21-20 to Purdue, is favored over injury-ridden Northwestern. The Wildcats have a four-game losing streak and their ace fullback, Steve Murphy, may be ruled out of the game with a pulled leg muscle.

Minnesota, with a long casualty list that includes breakout runner Bill Crockett, is regarded a 3 to 4-point underdog at Indiana.

Wisconsin is another team plagued by casualties and Michigan State is a seven-point selection for the Badger homecoming. The Spartans traveling squad includes 15 sophomores.

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) —

Marlene Hagge shot a 69 Thursday to lead the women professional golfers in the pro-am section of the Las Cruces Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Kathy Whitworth followed with a 70 and Mickey Wright, the leading money winner on the women's tour, had a 71.

Thirty women professionals tee off today in the 54-hole, $8,500 tournament at the Las Cruces Country Club.

Wings Share First Place In NHL Race

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Red Wings' Manager-Coach Sid Abel has no goaltending problems — not with Roger Crozier stopping everything the opposition fires his way.

But Abel would like to see some points being scored by his younger players.

Bruce MacGregor scored two second period goals and Crozier kicked aside 32 shots to record his third shutout in four games in Detroit's 2-0 victory over Boston Thursday night.

The game was the only one on the National Hockey League schedule and the triumph moved the Red Wings into a tie for first place with Montreal to Toronto, each with nine points.

It also marked the seventh loss in eight games for Boston, which has yet to win.

MacGregor's goals were his first points this year. Three other Red Wings forwards — Pit Martin, Paul Henderson and Larry Jeffrey — have yet to score or gain an assist. Jeffrey is 24, the other two are 21.

"All of the younger players have been playing well," Abel said. "Henderson played a particularly strong game out there tonight. But it would help to have them get a few points. It will give them confidence if nothing else."

Meanwhile, the 22-year-old Crozier continues to be in the right place at the right time and was the object of a few well-intended remarks after the game.

Veteran Gordie Howe remarked, "You know the fans are going to boo you when you finally let one in, don't you?"

"That's what I'm worried about," Crozier answered.

The Detroit netminder has allowed just one goal in the last four games, that on a power play in the 1-1 tie with Montreal last Saturday.

He recorded two shutouts in 15 games as a substitute last season.

Crozier's toughest period Thursday was the first as he was called on to stop 15 Boston shots. He was at his best on a close-in shot by Orland Kurtenbach and quick shots by Murray Oliver and Tom Williams late in the period.

MacGregor's first goal came with the teams playing five men on a side. The puck just trickled over the line and into the net as Boston goalie Ed Johnston and defenseman Ted Green tried to bat it away.

MacGregor scored later with the Red Wings a man short after taking a pass from Norm Ullman.

Martin was hit on the ear on a shot by teammate Doug Barkley in the third period. The wound required eight stitches.

Six players were penalized way through the final period after a brawl near the Boston net. Ullman and Bob McCord each drew five minutes for fighting, while the other four were charged with roughing.

Boston is at Montreal and Chicago at Toronto Saturday. Sunday's schedule has Toronto at Detroit, Chicago at Boston and Montreal at New York.

Jack Hand Picks Packers To Nip Vikes This Time

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer Cleveland seeks revenge for an earlier loss to Pittsburgh, Baltimore goes after its seventh straight victory and Detroit and Los Angeles battle for the runner-up role in the West in National Football League games Sunday.

Buffalo, only unbeaten team in the majors, shoots for its eighth straight against Houston and Boston duels New York for runner-up honors in the East in top American Football League games.

A 9-2 record last week gives us courage to go for a few upsets this time. The season score is 47-24-5 — 28-18-3 in the NFL and 19-6-2 in the AFL.

Here goes for the second half: (All games Sunday afternoon unless otherwise indicated):

NFL
Los Angeles 21, Detroit 17 — An upset right off the bat. The Rams and Lions play "get the passer" with their tough defensive lines. They fought to 17-17 tie Sept. 19 but Los Angeles outgained Detroit. Ram rookies pack more scoring punch, with Milt Plum handicapped by injured elbow.

Dallas 17, Chicago 14 — Cowboy defense to handle Bill Wade's passes in another surprise. Dallas coming strong in last two weeks with Don Meredith healthy. Bears battered physically but still playing.

St. Louis 24, New York 17 — Despite loss of Sonny Randle, Cards have mixture of running and passing to top Giants and blitzing defense to harass Y. A. Tittle. Both quarterbacks have interception trouble. Cards will give Giant rookie Ernie Wheelwright prime test. Running of Joe Childress, Willie Crenshaw and John David Crow make Cards tough.

Baltimore 28, San Francisco 10 — One of these days Colts are going to have a letdown. Could be this one but 49ers don't get a rush line to hurry Johnny Unitas and John Brodie will get a rough reception. Colts' well-balanced offense too much.

Green Bay 24, Minnesota 21 — Vikings won their first meeting 24-23 on a missed extra point by Paul Hornung. Loss of Paul Flatley hurts Minnesota's air arm. Vikings can be had with passes. Both clubs can move the ball on the ground. A real tough one.

Cleveland 24, Pittsburgh 21 — This could be a killer. Steelers made 353 yards on the ground with John Henry Johnson and Clarence Peaks in winning first meeting 23-7. Conservative Brown pass rush gives Ed Brown plenty of time. But Jim Brown is overdue for a big one, especially against a club that stopped him cold earlier. Everybody runs against Steelers — except Browns.

Washington 21, Philadelphia 20 — Another upset. Toughest pick of the week. Redskins won first game 35-20 on five touchdown passes by Sonny Jurgensen who may have key to Eagle defense. Bobby Mitchell caught 12 against Glenn Glass first time so Nate Ramsey gets the job this week. Can Ollie Matson and Earl Gros run on Skins? That will decide it.

AFL
Boston 24, New York 21 (Saturday night) — Patriots beat Jets earlier 26-10. Mike Holovak's crew best in league on defense against rushing and Jets must have big yardage by Matt Snell to win. Gino Cappelletti and Jim Colclough catching Babe Parilli's passes give Boston edge. Jets vulnerable to bomb since loss of Marshall Starke.

Buffalo 28, Houston 17 — The Bills' happy string can't go on forever. But the rookie-loaded Oilers line-up doesn't have the stuff to stop the combination of Jack Kemp and Daryle Lamohica.

Oakland 24, San Diego 21 — Another upset. Al Davis has been having a tough year (1-5-1) but he has Sid Gillman's number. Clem Daniels and Billy Cannon are rolling. Cotton Davidson is rolling out and hitting Art Powell. Chargers having injury trouble in linebacking and deep defense but Lance Alworth, Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe are healthy.

Kansas City 21, Denver 7 — Denver broke its long losing streak at Chiefs' expense Oct. 11, 33-27. Doesn't figure to happen again. Broncos having problems in defensive backfield. Len Dawson supposed to be ready to go but Eddie Wilson has been fine back-up man.

City May Lose Store Business On Plow Policy

"To plow or not to plow? that is the question."

This paraphrase of Hamlet's famed soliloquy is becoming much heard in Delta County government.

It rises from the Delta County Road Commission's cut-off of contract snow plowing of private farm driveways this fall after many years of offering this service to rural dwellers on a fee basis.

The road commission has been told by the state that it is illegal for it to render this service; that county plow trucks operating off public highways lose their liability protection. Many counties of Michigan continue to plow their rural residents' driveways anyway, because it is difficult and more expensive to provide private services for this task.

The Delta County Board of Supervisors has asked the Delta Road Commission to restore the service. The Delta County Farm Bureau has asked the Michigan Legislature to enact a law making it legal for counties to plow private drives.

The implications of any decision on the issue are far reaching. The policy can strongly affect rural residence, marginal farming, the trend toward suburbia, and the economy of Escanaba and Gladstone.

Merchants and owners of public services should be concerned about the cutoff, suggests Mrs. James Jackson of Rock. She cites what the cutoff will do to her family.

The Jacksons came from Illinois and bought a farm 3 1/2 miles west of Rock. They have lived on it for 5 years. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jackson work at Sawyer Air Force Base. They have two children, a girl in high school and a son who has had much surgery and who is enrolled as a correspondence student at the University of Wisconsin. It's important to have access to a doctor for him.

The Jacksons estimate that they have spent $30,000 in Escanaba and Gladstone in the past five years. They cite that there must be many other rural residents who have done the same thing. Mrs. Jackson says that Delta County's 384 driveway plowing contracts last year included 150 for resident families and that if each farmer had an income of $4,000 a year, the county will lose up to $400,000 a year if it becomes impossible for them to live throughout the year in rural areas.

All the families are not in as bad a fix as the Jacksons, as she noted, because some live near plowed highways while the Jacksons must keep a quarter mile of drive open. They have been without open roadway as much as three days at a time in the winter.

"The people who live the

year around in the Upper Peninsula have far more effect on its economy than the tourists who cross the Mackinac Bridge," suggests Mrs. Jackson.

"My point is that if 150 families in Delta County aren't able to get their driveways plowed—during January, February and March the drifts are often three feet deep—at least two-thirds of them will have to give up and literally abandon their homes. These are not camps. Of the other third, it is a safe guess that they will be forced to abandon their source of livelihood, namely dairying, and become welfare cases." (Mrs. Jackson cited that closing of the Rock creamery cost the community 10 jobs.)

"People who have purchased homes on the promise that the county plows would keep their driveways cleared will have to be abandoned because without extremely heavy snow plowing equipment costing thousands of dollars—much more than many of these people have—the drives can't be kept open. And with an equity from their home, because it can't be sold if not accessible, they can't start somewhere else. My family is one of the many in this predicament and we don't know what to do."

Car Production Running Short

DETROIT (AP)—Car production rates for the immediate future at General Motors and for a week hence at the Ford Motor Co. remained in doubt today because of unsettled local plant disputes.

Big GM, giant of the industry still ran short of normal quotas because of continuing individual plant strikes since settling on the national level with the United Auto Workers Union.

Twenty of the UAW's 130 bargaining units had yet to come to agreement with GM.

General Motors said Thursday it was impossible to say how many of the more than 300,000 originally idled workers had returned to the job since the union's rank and file approved the national contract Sunday. The UAW permitted local strikes to continue.

The UAW has announced it will strike Ford at 10 a.m. Nov. 6 at plants where local issues are not settled by that time. Ford, like General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors, has agreed with the UAW on national terms. Chrysler and American Motors also have agreed locally though the latter's rank and file have yet to ratify.

Auto Crash Kills Mrs. Johnson, 82, Former Resident

Mrs. Anna Johnson, 82, of Pa., former resident of Escanaba, was killed instantly in an automobile accident Oct. 28. She was the widow of Oscar C. Johnson, who died in 1960, and a sister of Mrs. E. E. Nyberg, Escanaba.

The family moved from Escanaba to Pennsylvania 38 years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Frank Brown of Orange Park, Fla., and Mrs. Clarence Marshall of Cleveland, two grandsons, the one sister, and one niece and a nephew.

The body is at the Arnold Funeral Home in Titusville, Pa. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at Emanuel Lutheran Church, Titusville, and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Pleasantville.

Mrs. Wixner, 79, Dies In Detroit

ISABELLA—Friends of the family have received word of the death of Mrs. Fritz (Anna) Wixner of Detroit, former resident of Isabella. She died Oct. 15 at the age of 79. Funeral services were held in Detroit with burial in Brookdale Memorial Park. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Jack Sundling, Detroit, and five grandchildren.

Harmony Club

The Harmony Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Arvid Sundin. Mesdames Isadore Bonifas, Caleb Johnson, Ted Sundin and Harvey Sundin received prizes in games.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Soderberg returned from Huron, S. D., where they spent the past ten days pheasant hunting.

Briefly Told

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet at 8 p. m. Monday at the clubrooms.

The Christ the King Lutheran Church bus which will carry youngsters and their guests to the Escanaba football game at Preble Saturday will leave at 10:45 a. m. and return at approximately 9 p. m.

George Harvey, Escanaba city manager, is in Ishpeming today attending a conference of city managers of the Upper Peninsula.

Clarence Vizineau, 17, of Gladstone Rte. 1, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Delta County jail when he was arraigned in Municipal Court today to a charge of larceny from a dwelling. If he makes restitution of $125 within 15 days the jail term will be reduced to 15 days, but he will continue on probation for six months.

Halloween No. 1 Spooky Holiday

By ROBERT P. SALMON

BOSTON (AP) — Be happy that the tykes won't be demanding "trick or treat" in the name of Muck Olla Saturday night, dad.

They might burn down the homestead or beat you if you didn't come across.

Halloween is spooky fun. A few years ago it was pranks, some not so childish. A few hundred years ago, particularly in England, Ireland and Scotland, Halloween was dead serious — with emphasis on the dead.

People went around with hearts in their mouths, trying to keep spooks and ghosts out of their houses.

Call it what you wish — Halloween, Hallowmas, All Hallowes, snapapple night, All Souls eve, nutcrack night, All Saints eve or even tealay — the holiday is the weirdest we have.

It's a combination of an ancient Roman fruit festival and an old English harvest celebration, with a goodly dash of witchcraft from the Middle Ages.

Romans used to pause each autumn to give thanks to Pomona, goddess of fruits and gardens. That's where we get apples and nuts as part of Halloween.

In Britain, the harvests were over by the end of October and the English, the Celts and the Welsh used to hold festival in honor of the sun god.

The sorcery crept in when the Christian Church in England tried to suppress these pagan rites. Driven underground, the druids added Satan to their list of pagan deities. They held periodic meetings. Midnight was their favorite time. Black cats were considered delightful.

The Celtic year ended on Oct. 31 and these pastoral people called it the eve of Samhain. Samhain represented both the end of summer and a festival of the dead. The druids said ghosts and goblins went around on that night killing animals and stealing babies.

Muck Olla was a good guy. But the Celtic delinquents who used his name would go from house to house, demanding food and drink in the early druidic name. You came across if you wanted to live to see the next Halloween.

State School Aid Payments Distributed

Distribution checks for $282,680 in State school aid were mailed to County school districts this week by the Delta County Treasurer's office.

The Escanaba Area Public school district received the largest share — $134,580.

Other districts receiving payments were: Gladstone, $43,160; Brampton township, $3,610; Baldwin township, $8,160; Rapid River Rural Ag., $18,000; Nahma township, $4,600; Fairbanks township, $2,550; B a r k River-Harris, $26,000; Flat Rock $16,830; Garden $13,600.

A check for $2,870 was also sent to the area's Intermediate School district.

Council Moves To Aid Firms

The City Council has given first reading to ordinances proposing the vacating of streets to permit the expansion of a couple local businesses, and set the date of Nov. 19 for final hearing and adoption.

The Council in special meeting Thursday night also authorized the drawing of a lease with Clairmont Transfer Co. so the firm can go forward without delay in its plans for expansion. Clairmont asked the city to vacate N. 18th and 19th Sts. between the E&LS Railroad tracks and 7th Ave N.

The other proposed street vacating is one-half block of 7th Ave. N. east of N. 16th St., requested by the B. A. Coplan Iron & Metal Co.

In other business the Council authorized an expenditure of about $950 to finance a gas line extension to serve a business development; and adopted a steam rate (from $1.18 to $1.50) to supply the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. for one year.

Reds Fall Into Line With New Soviet Leaders

MOSCOW (AP) — European Communist parties are falling into line behind the new Soviet leadership, apparently accepting Kremlin explanations that Nikita Khrushchev was removed for bungling in the Cuban crisis, the rift with Peking and an assortment of other failures.

Official Kremlin statements on Khrushchev's removal are couched in general terms, but Communist sources said a document containing 29 charges — including those on Cuba and Red China — is being circulated in Soviet Communist party units.

The Hungarian Communist party was the first to endorse Khrushchev's removal, declaring last Sunday that he had made "regrettable mistakes." Polish party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka on Wednesday said the Soviet party's leaders had "grounds" to accept Khrushchev's resignation.

A French Communist delegation sent to Moscow to obtain explanations for the power shift returned home Thursday after issuing a communique emphasizing solidarity of the French and Soviet Reds.

The communique made no mention of Khrushchev. But it said the two parties had frank and friendly talks and would "continue consolidating the fraternal relations, bonds of traditional friendship and mutual confidence, which exist between" them.

An Italian Communist delegation began meeting with Soviet leaders after the French left.

The Soviet Communists will begin talks with a Danish delegation Friday. An Austrian delegation also is in Moscow. John Gollan, general secretary of Britain's Communist party, said in London he and George Matthews, editor of the London Daily Worker, would go to Moscow next week to "discuss replacement of Mr. Khrushchev and problems in Soviet policy."

Newman Club At College Elects

The Bay de Noc Community College Newman Club meeting Wednesday, in the Student Center elected as officers: President: James Stearns; vice-president: James Morin; treasurer: Terry Murray; recording secretary: Pat Finley; and corresponding secretary: Kay Richards.

The club is under the guidance of Father Lawrence Gauthier and faculty representatives, Sam Lind and Miss Leona Dougherty. The club is to be federated with the national Newman organization.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11 at the Student Center at 7 p. m. All Catholic students of the college are invited.

Only Woman In U.P. Race Finds Voters Friendly

Mrs. Marion Gibson is the only woman running for the Legislature in the Upper Peninsula.

She is a Newberry housewife, married to a general medical practitioner, Dr. Robert E. Gibson, mother of two grown sons, and she is running for the Legislature essentially "because I believe that we should have a two party system."

There wouldn't have been opposition for her opponent, Democrat Rep. Einar Erlandsen of Escanaba, if she hadn't run, of course, but she wanted to be sure that the people had ample choice.

She is president of board of education of the Newberry Public Schools and has been a member for 6 years.

"I'm running because I'm interested in the future of this area and the welfare of the people in it," said Mrs. Gibson. "It's been a good home for us (her husband is from Newberry, she is from Royal Oak, Mich.) and we want it to be a good home for our children."

"Make It Bright"

"The Upper Peninsula can have a bright future, but we have to make it bright. We have to expand the tourist industry, do something about forest products and bring in more industry. It has to be private industry because we have to have a tax base. It can't be only federal projects that are just stop-gaps to relieve unemployment. Federal programs take tax dollars away."

"It is strange that the average person you meet in a campaign doesn't want to talk about government — except taxes. And they do object to Mackinac Bridge tolls."

"I have found out that many persons don't know what district they live in. In the Sault I met persons who thought they couldn't vote for me because I was in the same district as Clayton Morison, the present Republican representative there. He is running in the 106th District. I'm in the 107th."

"There seems to be no prejudice against a woman running for the Legislature. They've been nice to me, but people seem rather apathetic about issues. I hope that they're not apathetic on Nov. 3, but get out and vote."

Inspiring Support
"There are hundreds of persons who are working hard in the campaign and who are vitally concerned about the outcome. They think it is the most crucial election of their lifetime."

"The young people in the area are really doing a job. This interest is healthy and should give us more informed voters and candidates. It promises a good political future for the area."

Mrs. Gibson struck back at the reported statement of her opponent, Rep. Einar Erlandsen, in Schoolcraft County on state school aid. Erlandsen was quoted as saying that despite the big state surplus reported by Governor Romney, there has been a necessity for school districts to borrow $55 million because of reduction in state aid.

Erlandsen also said that the state owes the Veterans Trust Fund. Mrs. Gibson replied that school districts have had to borrow money since 1957, due to the schedule of payments from the state. If larger state aid payments could be made to schools early in the year, she said, they wouldn't have to borrow. Property tax collections don't go to the school districts until January now and some of the state surplus might be used for advances. Mrs. Gibson suggested. For every $10 million borrowed by schools it costs them $200,000 in interest, she said.

School Aid Up

There has been no decrease in state school aid, she said, school aid has increased. But school expenses have increased, too, and while aid has risen, so have expenses, and disproportionately.

The Veterans Trust Fund, from which the state borrowed under a Democratic administration, is being replaced on schedule, said Mrs. Gibson. Replacement was at the rate of a million dollars a year at first but now is $2 million and in the past year an extra $5 million was replaced. Eleven million dollars have been replaced.

"Political campaigning is an enlightening experience for a candidate. The Upper Peninsula doesn't have many people and it is a huge place to get around in. This situation affects our Upper Peninsula outlook. It makes it difficult to organize inter-community efforts and large affairs."

Professional Worker

"The candidate doesn't really get elected on his own efforts, but on the efforts of many persons in many communities. It is gratifying to learn that so many persons that you haven't even known before are working for you."

Mrs. Gibson is 48, a tall (5 foot, 7 inches "without my shoes") woman who is active publicly in her home city of Newberry. Besides her service on the school board she is in the Business & Professional Women.

She was graduated from Wayne State University with a degree in chemistry in 1936. She became a medical technologist at Womans Hospital, Detroit and managed her husband's office in Newberry until last July.

Coffee trees begin to bear fruit when they are three years old.
